NEWTON, Kan., April 21.—Coming through big Ohio farms yesterday on the Pennsylvania "Manhatten Limited" bound for Chicago, a pond, big or little, indicated the low spots in the fields. Here in Kansas, the wide fields are enormous lakes, about which the Sante Fe fast train, "The Chief," travels toward the Pacific on a high, heavily ballasted roadbed. The only important news out here is "flood news."

The boiling, muddy waters of the Mississippi rise higher and higher. Women and children are removed from danger, men remaining, piling up sand bags to protect weakened levees. The destruction of property will be great.

This nation has lent 11 thousand millions in private loans to Europe recently, in addition to 10 thousand millions lent by government in war excitement. Why not get excited about our own war on the waters?

Those that blame earth's troubles on the sun spots will be interested in the variety of weather demonstrations. Heavy rains, cloudbursts, hail, high wind storms, and at Hale, Missouri, "a twister," local name for a small cyclone, are included. The twister destroyed two blacksmith shops, damaged several buildings.

Hay will be cheap this year on the farms, for crops will be heavy. After the farmer sells and jobber gets the hay, prices will change. Late plowing will be delayed and wheat growers worry about too heavy "top growth."

Wheat grown suddenly too tall falls before high winds or heavy rains, and athletic young gentlemen, please notice: When the wheat stalk is overdeveloped, the head of the wheat containing the grain is feeble. Too much straw means too little wheat.

And too much muscle means too little brain.

CHICAGO is interested in "what happened to Jake Adler and Frank Gallelo," kidnaped, then freed for cash. The two own "The Midnight Frolics" cabaret and are silent wisely.

If a Chicago gang gets you, takes your money, let's you go, keep your mouth shut. Talk, any they "take you for a ride" and you don't come back.

Some think the "cabaret bosses" were kidnaped because one displayed "too big a roll." Others say they had neglected to pay their liquor bills The "Midnight Frolics," it seems were not 100 per cent dry frolics.

Chicago's police suggest that "Egan's Rats," gangsters from St. Louis, kidnaped the boys. St. Louis replies that Chicago needs no help of that kind.

LIBEL ACTION ENDS ABRUPTLY WHEN DEFENSE ACCUSES JUROR

Woman Alleged to Have Talked to Newspapermen.

CALL NEW TRIAL

Counter Charge of "Frame-up" Made by Plaintiff.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, April 21.—The million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel trial ended abruptly today when Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond ordered a mistrial, discharged the jury and remanded the case for a new trial.

Opposing counsel agreed to meet in the judge's chamber on Saturday, April 30, to fix a date for the new trial. It was said the court had no money to pay a new jury, but that counsel might agree to raise a fund for this purpose.

Jury Bribery Plot Alleged.

The mistrial was granted on a motion by counsel for Henry Ford because Mrs. Cora Hoffman, one of the woman jurors, talked to newspapermen about the case.

Opposing counsel aired an alleged jury bribery plot, which Ford attorneys charged in a series of affidavits filed in court. The affidavits, sworn to by Ford attorneys, alleged a man, named J. "Kidd" Miller, had approached Mrs. Hoffman with an offer involving "thousands of dollars."

In filing the mistrial motion, Stewart Hanley, acting chief of Ford's counsel, told the court there were four reasons for dicharging Mrs. Hoffman, all relating to her alleged prejudice toward Ford. He added that the Ford forces would not proceed with only 11 jurors.

"We have come to the conclusion that the conduct of the member of the jury was so improper we cannot proceed with the trial while that member is on the jury," said Hanley. "If that juror is dismissed, we feel we cannot proceed with the remainder of the jury. So, much to our regret, we have to move for a mistrial at this time."

Federal Inquiry Goes On.

The court announced that the department of justice was still investigating the bribery plot charges hurled by Ford's attorneys at Mrs. Hoffman and a man named J. "Kid" Miller. Thus far, he said, there was no evidence to show Mrs. Hoffman had been involved in any such plot. The court

Governor Vic Donahey Will Veto Proposed Half-Mill Tax Levy

Senator Jim Reed, Counsel for Ford, Taken to Hospital

FEDERAL COURT, DETROIT, April 21.—Senator James A. Reed, chief counsel for Henry Ford in the million-dollar libel suit, has been taken to the Henry Ford hospital for observation, it was learned today.

Reed was ordered to the hospital late last night, when he failed to respond to treatment given for an attack of acute indigestion. The senator was stricken on a train last Monday morning, while enroute here from Washington.

Senator Reed was reported to have intestinal pains and his physician ordered him to the hospital for observation.

Physicians at the Ford hospital denied rumors that the Missouri senator is critically ill.

Executive's Message, Rejecting Dodd Emergency Measure, Will go to House This Afternoon.

PROTESTS MADE AGAINST PLAN

Assembly Leaders Stand Pat on Policy Not to Pass Legislation Over Chief's Disapproval.

By C. H. Haddox.

COLUMBUS, O., April 21.—Recommending their passage, the house rules committee today reported out the Marshall and Etling bills, which passed the senate late Wednesday, relating to the compensation of village mayors and justices of the peace and providing for disposition of fines and forfeited bonds of liquor law violators.

COLUMBUS, O., April 21.—Governor Vic Donahey will veto today the Dodd emergency bill providing for a half-mill state direct tax levy and will send his veto message to the house this afternoon, according to announcement made at the governor's office.

When apprised of the governor's intention, Speaker O. C. Gray and other house leaders asserted that they did not believe the governor's veto of the Dodd bill would interfere with plans for a legislative recess tonight, or Friday.

House leaders stated that they stood pat on the policy not to pass the Dodd bill or any other measures over the governor's veto this session.

Hits Revenue-raising Claim.

Governor Donahey, it was stated, has received many protests from all sections of Ohio against the proposed half-mill tax levy. Protestants, it was said, included all of the 88 county auditors in this state, who asserted that the stipulation in the Dodd bill that the proposed tax be collected next June would materially interfere with the operations of their offices.

Claim, also, was made at the governor's office that the proposed state tax levy, if the Dodd bill became effective, would not raise nearly as much revenue as legislative leaders anticipated and that a number of county auditors declared it would be impossible to collect at least a portion of the proposed tax. Legislative leaders estimated that the tax levy would produce aproximately $6,500,000, all of which was to be paid into

Camp Habitues Step Across Border as Raiders Arrive.

Captain of Police Conley and Patrolman Leslie Curran broke up a game of poker when they raided a camp near the state line in what is known as "Hell's Half Acres" at 7 o'clock last night.

The seven men stepped across the border into Pennsylvania and made their escape. Four bottles of beer concealed in an empty keg, near the camp, were confiscated.

The camp was located near the improved road, opposite the site of the state line filling station destroyed by fire about two weeks ago.

Police visited a camp in the territory last Monday night, but the habitues with one exception fled into Pennsylvania. One man was taken into custody upon a charge of intoxication. Twenty bottles of home brew and six pints of corn liquor were destroyed by the raiders.

Three School Boys Killed When Train Wrecks Their Auto

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., April 21.—Three youths were killed here today when their automobile was struck by the "New Yorker," fast Michigan Central train.

The automobile and bodies were carried two blocks by the train.

ACCUSED WOMAN WATCHES EACH TALESMAN IN "LOVE" KILLING

Fourth Day of Snyder-Gray Case at Long Island.

MONOTONOUS JOB

Prospective Jurors Escape Service by Claiming Fixed Opinion.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

COURT HOUSE, Long Island City, N. Y., April 21.—The fifth juror, Herman Ballweg, retired, of Jamaica, a stolid, heavy set man, was selected this morning at the trial of Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray, who are accused of beating the woman's husband, Albert Snyder, to death with an iron bar.

Others in the jury box are:

William E. Young, 38, married, a press agent. He is foreman of the jury.

Charles B. Meissner, 50 a landscape gardener, married and with three children.

Harry Arnold, 29, a plumber, unmarried.

Alfred R. Kraimer, 35, a clerk, married and with three children.

The five sat not far from the jury box, chairs tilted against the wall, and watched attorneys for the state and the defense question a new jury box full of talesmen in an effort to obtain more jurors.

Oppose Capital Punishment.

As the monotonous questioning of talesmen proceeded, Mrs. Snyder, her pale, set face framed in a black tight-fitting hat, watched each talesman closely, often craning her neck to get a good look at him. If she did not like his looks or any of his answers, she would pluck at the sleeve of her attorney and quickly this announcement would be made:

"Peremptorily challenged by the Defendant Snyder."

In spite of the numerous challenges made and the slow progress made in the selection of the jury, hope was entertained as court opened this morning that the jury will have been obtained by tomorrow night. Up to the opening of court today, 161 talesmen had been examined and all except four rejected.

Conscientious objection to capital punishment was a sure-fire way to avoid jury duty. So, too, was the statement that the talesman held a fixed opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendants.

The remarkable feature of the trial so far has been the number of citizens who looked upon the icy-eyed, smart-appearing defendant and asserted they were opposed to capital punishment or, in other words, sending a woman to the electric chair.

Cleaner Streets Urged by Speaker At Lions' Meeting

A new municipal building, cleaner streets and more civic pride were urged by Attorney Samuel W. Crawford in an address before members of the Lions' club at their dinner meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last evening. His subject was "Public Blindness as Compared to Private Blindness."

About 20 members of the club attended the meeting.

Dr. C. A. Shafer, Chester, is chairman of the program committee for next Wednesday's meeting.

Automobile Drivers in Northside Wreck Face Grave Charges

BOTH MEN PLEAD NOT GUILTY WHEN ARRAIGNED; HEARING ON SATURDAY

Reckless Driving Information Against Joseph Flame, Also Midland, Passenger in Sedan, Dismissed After Charles Williams, 14, Succumbs to Crushed Skull in Hospital.

Gerald McGraw, 22 Grove alley, and Michael D'Amico, Midland, drivers of automobiles which figured in a traffic collision at the corner of St. Clair and McKinnon avenues, late Tuesday night, were held by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today on manslaughter charges following the death of Charles, 14, son of James Williams, also of Grove alley, a passenger in the McGraw car.

The information was preferred by Police Captain Mason Conley.

The two men, who will be given a hearing at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, were released on $2,500 bond each after pleading not guilty. McGraw was represented by Attorney Ben L. Bennett.

Charge of reckless driving filed yesterday against Joseph Flame, Midland, owner of the sedan which was in the collision, was dismissed today, when Flame denied that he was driving the machine at the time of the crash. He was accompanied to court by D'Amico who admitted that he was at the wheel of the car.

Judge Hanley dismissed the reckless driving charge at the request of Solicitor Frank Hoover.

Flame was represented by Attorney S. W. Crawford. Crawford said he would not defend D'Amico as he expects to be called as a witness in the case.

Harry Johannes, Northside druggist, an eye-witness, to the collision, testified at the investigation today.

Funeral Services Saturday.

Young Williams died in the City hospital shortly after 10 o'clock last night from a crushed skull, suffered when he was hurled from the McGraw car.

Carson Hancock, 24, West Seventh street, who sustained lacerations to the chest, face and head and injuries to his back, is convalescing, hospital attendants said. The Williams boy and Hancock were riding on the running boards of the machine, driven by Gerald McGraw, when it crashed into the sedan driven by Joseph Flame, Midland.

No coroner's investigation into the death of Williams will be conducted. The body was removed to the Miller undertaking establishment.

Besides his parents, the victim is survived by four brothers, John, William, Thomas and Robert, and two sisters, Sarah and Pearl, all at home.

Funeral services will be held in the Miller chapel, West Sixth street, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in charge of Dr. Donald W. MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial will be made in the Madison Presbyterian Church cemetery, Lincoln Highway.

Seek Traffic Light.

A movement for the installation of an automatic traffic light at the scene of the fatal crash was launched by residents of the Northside section yesterday. City officials advised no funds were available for such a light, which will cost approximately $180. A subscription paper was then placed in circulation. Approximately $65 had been raised up to noon today.

The St. Clair-McKinnon avenue intersection is regarded as one of the most hazardous in the city, as it is the cross roads for the main highway into Calcutta and the improved road connecting with Anderson boulevard and Park way. It is within one square of the Lincoln school.

Ohioan 23, Goes To Workhouse for Striking Mother, 77

COLUMBUS, April 21.—Robin Thompson, 23, of Columbus, today began serving a six months' sentence in the workhouse, which together with a $200 fine, was the penalty meted out to him in municipal court for striking his mother, aged 77, in a quarrel.

David Casto, 35, potter, of Montana avenue, Chester, suffered a fractured collar bone and a dislocated left shoulder when he fell from an moving automobile near Chester last evening. He was removed to the City hospital where the fracture was reduced, and then taken to his home in Chester.

FEDERAL TROOPS PURSUE MEXICAN REBELS WHO ATTACKED PASSENGER TRAIN, KILLING AND BURNING TO DEATH 100

MEXICO CITY, April 21.—A heavy force of federal troops, under personal direction of War Minister Amaro, is today in pursuit of a band of from 500 to 1,000 rebels that attacked a passenger train near Guadalajara, killing and burning to death more than 100 passengers, including 20 children and a number of women.

Dr. Mestre, of the Mexican treasury department, one of the survivors, who arrived here on a train with seven wounded and five dead, declared that, after killing the federal guard of 50 soldiers and two officers, the rebels set fire to the coaches and then shot down the passengers as they tried to escape.

Survivors said that the rebels called out of the passengers in the burning coaches to come out, then fired upon them as they emerged.

Most of the corpses were buried in a field near the scene of the attack while many of the wounded were taken to Labarca for treatment.

About a score of the survivors returned to Guadalajara.

Three American Families Unhurt.

Three American families were reported to have been on the train, but they escaped uninjured. The only American proceeding to Mexico City was H. Dock, a resident of Guadalajara.

An Englishman, who was a passenger, also escaped injury.

Heartbreaking scenes were described by persons who were on the train that took relief to the scene of the attack. One man, half crazed by his experience, laughed hysterically as he described how the rebels had killed all his family, including his mother and three children.

A survivor reported seeing a woman and two children stabbed to death.

On official commune, issued by Gen. Jose Alvarez, chief of staff to President Calles, said that most of the passengers killed, had been burned to death or hacked to pieces with knives after the rebels had locked the doors of the coaches and set them on fire. The statement said that the screams of the terrified and tortured passengers could still be heard from the burning coaches when federal troops arrived on the scene, some time after the attack had opened.

Government officials expressed belief that the rebel band may have been part of the revolutionary force that took up arms against the government as a result of religious differences.

The train was speeding over the national railway tracks, traveling between Mexico City and Guadalajara. When between Guadalajara and Irapuato, in the state of Jalisco, the rebels suddenly swooped down, firing rifles and shouting. They derailed the locomotive and set fire to the coaches.

A daughter of former President Obregon was said to have been a passenger on the train.

Woman Alleged to Have Talked to Newspapermen.

Counter Charge of "Frame-up" Made by Plaintiff.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, April 21.—The million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel trial ended abruptly today when Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond ordered a mistrial, discharged the jury and remanded the case for a new trial.

ACCUSED WOMAN WATCHES EACH TALESMAN IN "LOVE" KILLING

MONOTONOUS JOB

Prospective Jurors Escape Service by Claiming Fixed Opinion.

COURT HOUSE, Long Island City, N. Y., April 21.—The fifth juror, Herman Ballweg, retired, of Jamaica, a stolid, heavy set man, was selected this morning at the trial of Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray, who are accused of beating the woman's husband, Albert Snyder, to death with an iron bar.

Others in the jury box are:

A new municipal building, cleaner streets and more civic pride were urged by Attorney Samuel W. Crawford in an address before members of the Lions' club at their dinner meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last evening. His subject was "Civic Blindness as Compared to Eye Blindness."

About 20 members of the club attended the meeting.

Dr. C. A. Shafer, Chester, is chairman of the program committee for next Wednesday's meeting.

Automobile Drivers in Northside Wreck Face Grave Charges

BOTH MEN PLEAD NOT GUILTY WHEN ARRAIGNED; HEARING ON SATURDAY

Reckless Driving Information Against Joseph Flame, Also Midland, Passenger in Sedan, Dismissed After Charles Williams, 14, Succumbs to Crushed Skull in Hospital.

Gerald McGraw, 22 Grove alley, and Michael D'Amico, Midland, drivers of automobiles which figured in a traffic collision at the corner of St. Clair and McKinnon avenues, late Tuesday night, were held by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today on manslaughter charges following the death of Charles, 14, son of James Williams, also of Grove alley, a passenger in the McGraw car.

The information was preferred by Police Captain Mason Conley.

The two men, who will be given a hearing at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, were released on $2,500 bond each after pleading not guilty. McGraw was represented by Attorney Ben L. Bennett.

Charge of reckless driving filed yesterday against Joseph Flame, Midland, owner of the sedan which was in the collision, was dismissed today, when Flame denied that he was driving the machine at the time of the crash. He was accompanied to court by D'Amico who admitted that he was at the wheel of the car.

Judge Hanley dismissed the reckless driving charge at the request of Solicitor Frank Hoover.

Flame was represented by Attorney S. W. Crawford. Crawford said he would not defend D'Amico as he expects to be called as a witness in the case.

Harry Johannes, Northside druggist, an eye-witness, to the collision, testified at the investigation today.

Funeral Services Saturday.

Young Williams died in the City hospital shortly after 10 o'clock last night from a crushed skull, suffered when he was hurled from the McGraw car.

Carson Hancock, 24, West Seventh street, who sustained lacerations to the chest, face and head and injuries to his back, is convalescing, hospital attendants said. The Williams boy and Hancock were riding on the running boards of the machine, driven by Gerald McGraw, when it crashed into the sedan driven by Joseph Flame, Midland.

No coroner's investigation into the death of Williams will be conducted. The body was removed to the Miller undertaking establishment.

Besides his parents, the victim is survived by four brothers, John, William, Thomas and Robert, and two sisters, Sarah and Pearl, all at home.

Funeral services will be held in the Miller chapel, West Sixth street, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in charge of Dr. Donald W. MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial will be made in the Madison Presbyterian Church cemetery, Lincoln Highway.

Seek Traffic Light.

A movement for the installation of an automatic traffic light at the scene of the fatal crash was launched by residents of the Northside section yesterday. City officials advised no funds were available for such a light, which will cost approximately $180. A subscription paper was then placed in circulation. Approximately $65 had been raised up to noon today.

The St. Clair-McKinnon avenue intersection is regarded as one of the most hazardous in the city, as it is the cross roads for the main highway into Calcutta and the improved road connecting with Anderson boulevard and Park way. It is within one square of the Lincoln school.

FEDERAL TROOPS PURSUE MEXICAN REBELS WHO ATTACKED PASSENGER TRAIN, KILLING AND BURNING TO DEATH 100

MEXICO CITY, April 21.—A heavy force of federal troops, under personal direction of War Minister Amaro, is today in pursuit of a band of from 500 to 1,000 rebels that attacked a passenger train near Guadalajara, killing and burning to death more than 100 passengers, including 20 children and a number of women.

Dr. Mestre, of the Mexican treasury department, one of the survivors, who arrived here on a train with seven wounded and five dead, declared that, after killing the federal guard of 50 soldiers and two officers, the rebels set fire to the coaches and then shot down the passengers as they tried to escape.

Survivors said that the rebels called out of the passengers in the burning coaches to come out, then fired upon them as they emerged.

Most of the corpses were buried in a field near the scene of the attack while many of the wounded were taken to Labarca for treatment.

About a score of the survivors returned to Guadalajara.

Three American Families Unhurt.

Three American families were reported to have been on the train, but they escaped uninjured. The only American proceeding to Mexico City was H. Dock, a resident of Guadalajara.

An Englishman, who was a passenger, also escaped injury.

Heartbreaking scenes were described by persons who were on the train that took relief to the scene of the attack. One man, half crazed by his experience, laughed hysterically as he described how the rebels had killed all his family, including his mother and three children.

A survivor reported seeing a woman and two children stabbed to death.

An official commune, issued by Gen. Jose Alvarez, chief of staff to President Calles, said that most of the passengers killed, had been burned to death or hacked to pieces with knives after the rebels had locked the doors of the coaches and set them on fire. The statement said that the screams of the terrified and tortured passengers could still be heard from the burning coaches when federal troops arrived on the scene, some time after the attack had opened.

Government officials expressed belief that the rebel band may have been part of the revolutionary force that took up arms against the government as a result of religious differences.

The train was speeding over the national railway tracks, traveling between Mexico City and Guadalajara. When between Guadalajara and Irapuato, in the state of Jalisco, the rebels suddenly swooped down, firing rifles and shouting. They derailed the locomotive and set fire to the coaches.

A daughter of former President Obregon was said to have been a passenger on the train.

HATTIE

SYNOPSIS.

HATTIE JOHNSON, just 17, works in the mailing room of a printing and book-binding establishment. A former fellow employe, LUCILLE OVERMAN, takes her to the Earthwide Picture studio, where she is seen by ARMAND DE BRISSAC, famous director. He makes a screen test of Hattie and takes her to California with him to make a picture, "Bagdad." With her go GRANDMA, old and lame, and ALICE, Hattie's married sister and her baby, all dependent on Hattie. Hattie becomes engaged to HENRY O'MALLEY, De Brissac's head camera man, although she is fascinated by the director. De Brissac wants her to go with him on his yacht for a week's cruise, when the picture is finished, but Hattie refuses and leaves the Earthwide studio to work for Plantagenet. She finds she cannot work without De Brissac, however. She meets Lucille who advises her to go back to De Brissac. Alice's husband ARTHUR, has deserted her several years before but he comes back and adds himself to Hattie's responsibilities. Hattie and Henry go to a private showing of the finished picture which is a great succes. De Brissac is to form his own company and wants her to work with him.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT.

"And while they are sorry, as we all are, that Miss John went into this Plantagenet picture, they are persuaded that with the big momentum of 'Bagdad' to carry her popularity along and with Mr. De Brissac to direct her next pictures, the Plantagenet business will do no great harm. In fact, we are already spreading the word quietly, through the de Brissac press department, that she was badly directed on the Plantagenet lot and wasn't happy there. But there must be no more mistakes. Her career must be handled very skilfully. It will be. Now, Mr. de Brissac is, as you know, a great man. He sees a long way ahead. His moves seem bold, but that is because he knows when and how to strike. There is something of the Napoleon in him. He is altogether too big a man to make an inadequate offer. He sees all sides of a situation. Now his offer—I have his memorandum here somewhere—"

Mr. Wurtzell was feeling in his pockets; not, to be sure without a perception of the value, at just such a moment, of suspence. Arthur was leaning forward, all shining eagerness, hanging on his words. Alice was trying to compose her nervous features. Gran'ma sat back, head erect, thinking of relief from the long strain and grimly believing it an answer to prayer. Hattie herself felt numb. Life, the pictures, something she couldn't understand the meaning of was dragging her on and on . . . . the breathless speed of this strange picture business . . . . she wished Henry were here. She could never speak her chaotic mind to the family. Never!

"—— oh yes, here it is. While Miss John is, of course, very young, and has done only the one picture, still she is a real success. The exhibitors want her. The public wants her. The public, you see, is tired of doll faces and simpering beauties. Mr. de Brissac was the first to see that clearly. And while it is a popular saying just now that the star system is dead, he knows that in the wider sense it can't die, and he proposes to move in a way to eliminate the possibility of argument."

Arthur hitched his chair forward and spread a flat hand on the table. His cigar was out.

"He suggests a new three-year contract at a very fair figure—one thousand dollars a week the first year . . ."

Hattie didn't hear the rest, just sat quitely with dazed look on her face.

They were talking. She heard Arthur's voice—with quite new ring of authority in it—

Arthur hitched his chair forward and spread a flat hand on the table.

"Well, everything considered, I should say that was a fair offer. Wouldn't you, Alice? Yes, while we shall naturally want a little time to think it over, still as a business man, I should say . . ."

"Wouldn't it be well, Arthur, to inquire into the salaries of some of these other young stars?" This from Gran'ma, with a quaver in her usually firm voice.

Hattie's mind was capering queerly. She nearly laughed. She could have told them, could she have spoken at all, that Eva Eames, two years out of high school, drew eight thousand a week.

"It is only fair to say that the offer"—Mr. Wurtzell—"will not be raised. So far as the De Brissac company is concerned it is final. Naturally we hope it will be accepted. Mr. de Brissac is working under terrific pressure. There is no time to lose. If you do accept he wished me to tell you that he has put aside an hour or so this evening for a talk with Miss John about her next role. He is for the present renting a studio near Culver City and has his office there, but will send his limousie for Miss John. In fact, he authorized me to say that unless word to the contrary reaches him the car will call here for her at eight o'clock.

Hattie rose and moved blindly toward the door.

"What is it?" asked Gran'ma.

"Where are you going?"

She couldn't answer. She heard Alice say to Arthur—"For Heaven's sake see what she's up to!" He caught her out in the hall while she was pulling on her hat.

"Where on earth are you going?" he whispered hoarsely.

"Oh—just for a walk," said she, outwardly calm.

"Well, you do beat all! Don't you get this, dear—a fat little fifty-two thousand a year! And more next year, and the next!"

He had her arm. She shook off his grip and opened the door.

"Perhaps it's better to leave the details to our older heads, though. You're excited, of course. Don't blame you. We'll arrange everything. Just go along and get some air ——"

She was running down the stairs.

She hurried along the street, waited for a trolley car and rode into Los Angeles. For a time she wandered about the crowded streets that were now become familiar. She found herself passing the Alexandria and turned in there. The spacious lobby had its usual swarm of tourists and commercial men, its rectangle of arm chairs and sofas where women and flappers and two or three men awaited others. It would be luncheon time, then. She moved, an insignificant whisp of a girl, in and out among the chatting groups, glancing at the self-important men at the telegraph and cigar counters and at the girls demurely awaiting their turn outside the row of telephone booths. She was all restless nerves. The sense of pushing through life was nearly intolerable now. The simplest thing might be to take the car down to Santa Monica, stroll out on the pier, and quietly drop into the Pacific. Or, instead, she might go into the big dining room here and lunch in state, alone. Come to think of it, she had all of the final week's salary in her shopping bag. Alice had forgotten, in the excitement, to ask for it. She decided to do this.

The head waiter was courteous and quick with suggestions. She had oysters and chicken soup and a big baked lobster and salad and potatoes and ice cream with cake and coffee. Then she bought a box of chocolates and took it into a picture house. A doll-faced girl, up there on the screen, appeared to be going through a struggle of the soul not unlike her own. Evil men pursued her. The hero rushed to her defence, and fought to defend her honor; fought heroically, with a knife, then with a stick, finally with his bare hands. At the end of the battle his face was battered and his clothing torn, but he was victorious. This victory evidently convinced the heart-wrung heroine that she loved him. She hadn't seemed aware of it before. Also in some inexplicable way it saver her honor. And she fanded out with him in a long kiss by a moonlit lake.

The texture,—woven of fine lustrous durable wool—is deep cushiony and luxurious. The dyes are the best that are made—clear, definite and fast and lasting as those used by the eastern weavers in the more costly Orientals.

By the unique and exclusive Masland method these absolutely dependable colors go to the very heart of the wool and last as long as the wool itself. See these rugs tomorrow.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Often Caused by Bladder Weakness. It's Nature's Signal of "Danger Ahead."

A. C. Eckhart, 3917 St. Clair St., Cleveland, O., says, "After taking Lithiated Buchu tablets one week, the burning and smarting left me, and with no desire to get up nights. You should get the credit as I have tried many things. I will be glad to write my experience to any one. Lithiated Buchu cleanses the bladder as epsom salts do the bowels, driving out deposits, neutralizes excess acids, thereby relieving irritation that causes getting up nights. What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES R STEWART

OHIO CONGRESSMAN UNDECIDED ABOUT RUNNING FOR GOVERNOR

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, April 21. — Congressman Jim T. Berg is being offered his chance.

He and some other congressmen breakfasted with President Coolidge recently. In the course of the talk the president asked Jim if he means to run for governor of Ohio next year.

JAMES T. BEGG

It's a query the chief executive never would have put if he hadn't sensed the Republican gubernatorial electricity hovering right over Begg, waiting for him to h'ist his lightning rod.

Cal seldom misreads these meteorological signs.

BEGG modestly said he hadn't positively made up his mind whether to run for governor or not.

The fact is that the chance he's offered, while really a chance to make a big killing, is also a chance to lose—not only to miss the governorship, but to lose what he's got now.

Jim Begg is one of the biggest men in the house of representatives. He's assistant majority floor manager. There never were two buddies closer than Speaker Nick Longworth and Jim. Jim has more power than most senators.

NOW, in exchange for his position of so much honor and consequence in the house of representatives, what has the Ohio governorship to offer to Congressman James T. Begg of Sandusky?

Well, if he's elected governor, it offers him a plenty.

As governor of Ohio, he's a presidential possibility, right from the jump. He couldn't be nominated for president earlier than 1932, to be sure, but Begg's only 50 and can afford to wait that long, or even longer, is necessary.

Oh, yes, it's a prize well worth having—if you win.

THE drawback is:

The political mortality rate among Republican candidates for governor of Ohio is alarmingly high.

It's peculiar.

The state's presidential vote is Republican much oftener than it's Democratic. It's only very semi-occasionally that an Ohio Democrat horns into the senate. Of the present Buckeye representatives in congress only five out of 22 are Democrats.

But in the last 20 years the Republicans have succeeded only twice in electing the Ohio governor.

EVEN now Vic Donahey, a Democrat, is on his third term as governor of Ohio.

By the same token, he's a presidential possibility. The governor of Ohio always is. It's a pivotal state, with a lot of electorial votes. The candidate who can swing 'em is a strong candidate nationally.

If Jim Begg can break into Ohio as governor he'll automatically become a presidential possibility, by virtue of having done so, and all the more so, due to general recognition of the fact that it's a hard trick for a Republican to turn.

But can he? If Jim could answer that question he'd make up his mind, one way or the other, mighty quick.

BEGG'S an unusually able man and an exceedingly likable chap. He may work on up in the direction of the White House from where he is, but nobody's suggested him for it yet, and it looks as if it would be a pretty long row for him to hoe, at his present rate.

In a nomination for the Ohio governorship he might find a short cut, though sometimes short cuts prove the longest way home.

Flood Prevention

The first thing to be done in connection with the Mississippi floods is to give relief to the sufferers and to repair as quickly as possible the damage caused.

The next thing is to recognize that Mississippi floods are foreseeable and preventable. They do not arise suddenly from an unexpected cloudburst. They develop slowly with the spring rains that come to all the vast territory of the Mississippi valley. They are growing worse year by year as deforestation progresses in the upper Mississippi valley, including the territory drained by tributary streams.

Direct material loss, loss of life, injury to crops and the spread of disease are the attendant evils of flood.

Reforestation is as important in the control and prevention of floods as the building of dykes and levees. Both activities are needed, and it is work that should be done by the whole country, not left to the labors of the annually flooded states.

Disturbed Sleep

A scientific study of sleep conducted in the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research in Pittsburgh, with two college students as subjects, has established the fact that love and financial worry are disturbers of sound slumber. Which needed no proving. Any novelist or poet could have told that. Still as long as we're having everything in the universe checked up by science, recorded in definite figures and reduced to rule, it's just as well to have that little item attended to.

The student who was in love—a very serious case—being watched every moment throughout the night, was observed to toss and tumble about on the bed in a distracted way, instead of settling down to sound repose as he should.

The student who was hard up financially rested just about as badly, until in the midst of the experiment he made up his mind that he could get along on what little money he had. Immediately, then, he slept better.

Of more real importance to the world is the observation that in an average rest period of eight hours a night, the subjects actually had only about 14 minutes of really restful and refreshing sleep. The average is said not to be much longer.

That 14 minutes probably did the sleepers more good than all the rest of the night. If that is true, and the rest we need for the day's activities takes so little time when it is the right kind of rest, it is obviously important to learn the art of sleeping. Anyone who learned to control his rest might restore mind and body wonderfully by half an hour of real sleep at any time during the 24 hours.

Melting Them Up

John Bradac, Pauline Zivich, Michael Carney, James Wells, Tony Castiglione, Wincenty Kiviscien, Paul Sirej, Stella Sokolowsky, Frank Balazsi, Louis Weintraub, Kate Stroja, Stanley Zylinski, Minnie Paanaven, Lena Van Diest, Fritz Anderson, Evan Gerken.

They are from these races: Serb, Croat, Slovene, English, Scotch, Irish, Italian, Polish Czecho-Slovakian, Hungarian, Roumanian, Lithuanian, Russian, Turkish, Finnish, Dutch Swiss, Swedish and Belgian.

These, however, are mostly immigrants who came before the new restriction laws were operating. Soon the naturalization lists will begin to show a pronounced change, with fewer names that Americans cannot spell or pronounce, and more names reminiscent of the old stock of northern and western Europe from which the nation was formed originally.

Scary Elephants

Three tame elephants showing in Newark, N. J., known as models of gentle behavior, ran amuck suddenly the other day, trampling a woman to death, knocking others down and terrifying a street crowd.

It is explained that the beasts took fright at an alley cat. That may be. One spectator, however, observed that the cat was chasing a mouse, thereby probably getting down to the real cause. The elephants too may have seen that mouse. And elephants are notoriously afraid of mice.

It is a curious thing that the largest of animals should have such fear of the smallest. Still, we can't say that man himself is much more rational than that. There is no logic in fear, and many of the things we fear most are little things.

Hospitality to Birds

The wild geese isn't really wild, says a naturalist who has been feeding a flock of such birds through the winter. He finds that he can go right up and throw corn to them, and even hit the supposedly scary creatures with corn cobs, and they will not take alarm and fly away.

Many an American bird-lover has discovered the same fact regarding many another bird or animal. The wild things become tame enough when you feed them. In fact, that is how all our tame birds and animals have been domesticated. Sharing food brings even man and brute creation together and makes them friends.

CUTTING OUT THE FREE AD

Some business managers of some publications are rather fussy in the matter of their advertising policies. They stand guard over the editorial departments, ever vigilantly on the outlook to see that nothing which first should have passed through the counting room finds it way into the news pages. In other words, they decline to give to anybody or anything a free reading notice in which a personal boost or an advertisement might be concealed. On the whole, it is a sane policy, but there are perhaps times when it is slightly overdone.

For instance, there was the proprietor of a certain paper, a person especially watchful in this particular regard. Although his earlier education had not been on the literary side—if at all—he constituted himself a censor of all that went over the city desk.

Every night he sat on duty to revise proofs of matter intended for use in the next morning's editions. One evening there was handed to him the account, done by his musical critic, of a concert, given by Mischa Elman, the famous violinist. In the notice the reviewer had stated that Mr. Elman has played upon a genuine Stradivarius of exquisite tone.

Straightway he ran a blue pencil through the offending lines Then he sent for the writer of the article.

"See," he said, "what I just had to cut out of your stuff. In the future don't let anybody slip anything like this over on you. If Mr. Stradivarius wants to advertise his make of fiddles in this paper our advertising columns are open to him at the customary rate of $2 a line."

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 21.—No club has furnished so many gay quips to the world as the Lambs. On its membership list are the most adroit of comedians who when "at liberty" spend leisure hours in this theatrical sanctuary.

It was here amid kindred spirits that Irvin Cobb won first fame as a story teller. It is where Wilton Lackaye became celebrated for his stinging epigrams. Libbrettists with hidden pads have gleaned material for a thousand and more brilliant lines.

There is a story of one playwright who quit the Lambs in a pique and was unable to write another successful comedy until he rejoined the fold. Skits from the yearly Lambs' Gambol have bolstered up a score of sagging revues.

The spirit of the Lambs is frolicsome. They are always at play and this jovial spirit has been upset only twice in its existence by the thump of flying fists. The club is a counterpart of a London theatrical club, the outgrowth of a nightly suggestion.

Some one would say "Let's all go over to the Lambs"—the kindly and hospitable Charles and Mary Lamb. Hence the name. The jests are chiefly at the expense of the members. And rarely offend. It is about the only theatrical club that does not go out of the theater or allied arts for members.

The other night a popular Hebrew actor who came out of the Ghetto tenements to stardom was playing pinochle with friends. A page boy tiptoed up, touched him on the shoulder and said "Your father is downstairs." A fellow player replied: "Shave him and send him up."

A celebrated mot concerns a distinguished actor who was with Lincoln on the night he was assassinated. He was in a Sunday night sketch for the Lambs' membership and went up in his lines to flounder about dismally. As the curtain descended a gloomy voice shouted: "And they shot Lincoln." The Lambs are planning a new club house further up town.

Then there was a versatile musician entertaining the Lambs one night who after playing a variety of instruments including a comb, handsaw and gourd wound up playing a tune on a bicycle pump. "If that guy had a goitre," bleated a Lamb, "he would play it as a Scotch bag-pipe."

Debt has "made" innumerable people who are intrinsically honest by keeping their noses to the grindstone. A magazine editor tells of a man who plunged into debt to buy a fine toilet set for his wife. After a year of scrimping he had it paid for and decided such a fine array of toilet articles should have a suitable dressing table. He went back on the treadmill to provide. That was the beginning. Today he owns a magnificent home and all the accessories. All inspired by the original idea.

A banker once told me debt was often necessary to success. But added: "Debt is more dangerous than drink unless properly handled."

The wife of a certain novelist returned from a two-months trip to Europe to find two strange dresses in her wardrobe. A hard thing to laugh off, my masters. She said nothing but suffered a nervous breakdown Six weeks later a maid informed her the dresses had been sent there by a sister of the novelist's wife to be given to any one she might select. The maid had neglected to mention the incident.

Three night club performers are now jerking soda in Times Square drug stores and about sixteen cabaret chorus girls are waitresses in a chain of quick restaurants. "At least," said one, "we are still on Broadway."

The old lamp post idea prevails.

The New Prohibition Bureau.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21.—The announcement that 2,500 positions in the Prohibition Bureau are to be placed under civil service has created a stir throughout the country. Twenty-five thousand persons have already made application and it is expected by the Civil Service Commission that there will be 75,000 scrambling for these positions. Requests for information regarding the examinations to be held and for application blanks have come from all sections of the country, in person, by mail, and even by telegraph.

The new Prohibition Bureau which became operative April 1, will have a personnel of 4,500. A thousand of this number are clerks and stenographers who are already under civil service. Under the law all enforcement personnel must be under civil service within six months from the date on which the new bureau became operative. Included under this ruling are all employes with the exception of the commissioner. The assistant commissioner, deputy commissioners, general counsel, federal administrators, and other administrative officers must qualify even as must the lowliest agent.

While it is true that there are to be 2,500 positions it is also true that many of the employes already in the service will undoubtedly qualify for the positions they are already holding. Their experience will also be in their favor. Therefore, probably there will not be as many actual vacancies as would appear at first glance.

Until regular civil service examinations have been held and certifications made from the lists of eligibles, the federal administrators are to be permitted to recommend to the Secretary of the Treasury individual members of their staffs whom they think should be retained under temporary appointment. It is the aim of the commission to build up an eligible list of from 5,000 to 10,000 persons from which a high grade of prohibition agents and other employes may be taken into federal service.

Undoubtedly there will be many changes in the personnel under the new regime. In fact, it is said, that already many prohibition agents and other employes have been dropped from the rolls. Some of these were dropped because it was plain that they would not be able to qualify under the strict examinations to be required.

Employment Turn-Over High.

It has been pointed out that the Civil Service Commission has a considerable job on its hands in undertaking the task of being ready at all times to fill vacancies occurring in the prohibition bureau. It is said that the turn-over in prohibition enforcement work is greater than in any other branch of the government, the annual rate being from 40 to 50 per cent.

Last year there were over 1,800 enforcement employes dropped out of the federal service. Many were dropped for incompetency, while others resigned under fire, either having been declared unfit for the work or charged with irregularities. The temptations are many in such work and a man must indeed be strong to resist the "easy money" to frequently offered to him.

Another reason given for the large turn-over in this work is that many seeking adventure obtain positions in this outfit only to find that they are not temperamentally or physically fitted to do the work required. This is particularly true of the men employed on the investigative end. It requires a special sort of temperament to be able to take calmly the fact that one's life is in frequent danger, and also to undergo the hardships often required.

There are, of course, men of the soldier-of-fortune type who glory in the work and who go into it for the thrill of the thing. They enjoy matching their wits against those who are making organized efforts to break the national prohibition law. The ordinary bootlegger is beneath their notice — they are interested in the big rum-running rings of international scope. Some of these can tell tales that would make Diamond Dick turn green with envy.

In order to be sure that grafters and crooks do not find their way upon the rolls of the new bureau the government is taking extraordinary measures. After an applicent has taken the civil service examination and obtained an eligible rating he will be finger-printed and measured. The "Rogues Galleries" of the various police departments will then be scanned and criminal court records carefully gone over to see that he has no criminal record.

Requirements Are Many.

The requirements for eligibility for employment in the bureau are to be high in ways other than good character also. An applicant for a position as an agent or investigator must possess at least to a fair degree Elinor Glyn's famous "it." He must be at home in the ballroom or at ease in the business office. It is not enough that he may have had detective training. It is deemed more desirable in fact that he not be the square-toed type of "bull" who screams his vocation by merely entering a room. But he must not be lacking in the investigative quality.

Both written and oral examinations are to be given in some cases, while either one or the other will be all that is necessary in some positions. The Civil Service Commission says that these examinations will be practical and each kind specially designed to test the qualifications and fitness of the applicants to perform the particular kind of work in which he is interested.

The examinations for investigators below senior grade, those for agents of all grades, and those for warehouse watchmen will be written mental tests. These will be given in approximately 600 cities throughout the country. The oral examinations will be given by investigators of the Civil Service Commission who will be sent to various parts of the country to interview applicants. These oral tests, together with the painstaking character investigations to be made, are said to make the testing of applicants for positions in the Prohibition Bureau one of the largest single tasks ever undertaken by the Civil Service Commission.

Written mental tests in examination rooms are not to be given to those above the grade of prohibition investigators. These include chiefs of field divisions down to senior prohibition investigators. All of the examinations, however, will include ratings on training and experience, a searching oral test, and the rigid character investigations referred to above.

It seems amazing in view of the many protests against prohibition that there should be such a rush on the part of citizens in all parts of the country to obtain an opportunity to aid in enforcing the law. At any rate, the Civil Service Commission has certainly its task cut out of it in examining these thousands of applicants.

Flood Prevention

The first thing to be done in connection with the Mississippi floods is to give relief to the sufferers and to repair as quickly as possible the damage caused.

The next thing is to recognize that Mississippi floods are foreseeable and preventable. They do not arise suddenly from an unexpected cloudburst. They develop slowly with the spring rains that come to all the vast territory of the Mississippi valley. They are growing worse year by year as deforestation progresses in the upper Mississippi valley, including the territory drained by tributary streams.

Direct material loss, loss of life, injury to crops and the spread of disease are the attendant evils of flood.

Reforestation is as important in the control and prevention of floods as the building of dykes and levees. Both activities are needed, and it is work that should be done by the whole country, not left to the labors of the annually flooded states.

Disturbed Sleep

A scientific study of sleep conducted in the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research in Pittsburgh, with two college students as subjects, has established the fact that love and financial worry are disturbers of sound slumber. Which needed no proving. Any novelist or poet could have told that. Still as long as we're having everything in the universe checked up by science, recorded in definite figures and reduced to rule, it's just as well to have that little item attended to.

The student who was in love—a very serious case—being watched every moment throughout the night, was observed to toss and tumble about on the bed in a distracted way, instead of settling down to sound repose as he should.

The student who was hard up financially rested just about as badly, until in the midst of the experiment he made up his mind that he could get along on what little money he had. Immediately, then, he slept better.

Of more real importance to the world is the observation that in an average rest period of eight hours a night, the subjects actually had only about 14 minutes of really restful and refreshing sleep. The average is said not to be much longer.

That 14 minutes probably did the sleepers more good than all the rest of the night. If that is true, and the rest we need for the day's activities takes so little time when it is the right kind of rest, it is obviously important to learn the art of sleeping. Anyone who learned to control his rest might restore mind and body wonderfully by half an hour of real sleep at any time during the 24 hours.

Melting Them Up

The following names are taken at random from a list of 124 men and women naturalized the other day in one of our big industrial cities:

John Bradac, Pauline Zivich, Michael Carney, James Wells, Tony Castiglione, Wincenty Kiviscien, Paul Sirej, Stella Sokolowsky, Frank Balazsi, Louis Weintraub, Kate Stroja, Stanley Zylinski, Minnie Paanaven, Lena Van Diest, Fritz Anderson, Evan Gerken.

They are from these races: Serb, Croat, Slovene, English, Scotch, Irish, Italian, Polish Czecho-Slovakian, Hungarian, Roumanian, Lithuanian, Russian, Turkish, Finnish, Dutch Swiss, Swedish and Belgian.

These, however, are mostly immigrants who came before the new restriction laws were operating. Soon the naturalization lists will begin to show a pronounced change, with fewer names that Americans cannot spell or pronounce, and more names reminiscent of the old stock of northern and western Europe from which the nation was formed originally.

Scary Elephants

Three tame elephants showing in Newark, N. J., known as models of gentle behavior, ran amuck suddenly the other day, trampling a woman to death, knocking others down and terrifying a street crowd.

It is explained that the beasts took fright at an alley cat. That may be. One spectator, however, observed that the cat was chasing a mouse, thereby probably getting down to the real cause. The elephants too may have seen that mouse. And elephants are notoriously afraid of mice.

It is a curious thing that the largest of animals should have such fear of the smallest. Still, we can't say that man himself is much more rational than that. There is no logic in fear, and many of the things we fear most are little things.

Hospitality to Birds

The wild geese isn't really wild, says a naturalist who has been feeding a flock of such birds through the winter. He finds that he can go right up and throw corn to them, and even hit the supposedly scary creatures with corn cobs, and they will not take alarm and fly away.

Many an American bird-lover has discovered the same fact regarding many another bird or animal. The wild things become tame enough when you feed them. In fact, that is how all our tame birds and animals have been domesticated. Sharing food brings even man and brute creation together and makes them friends.

CUTTING OUT THE FREE AD

Some business managers of some publications are rather fussy in the matter of their advertising policies. They stand guard over the editorial departments, ever vigilantly on the outlook to see that nothing which first should have passed through the counting room finds it way into the news pages. In other words, they decline to give to anybody or anything a free reading notice in which a personal boost or an advertisement might be concealed. On the whole, it is a sane policy, but there are perhaps times when it is slightly overdone.

For instance, there was the proprietor of a certain paper, a person especially watchful in this particular regard. Although his earlier education had not been on the literary side—if at all—he constituted himself a censor of all that went over the city desk.

Every night he sat on duty to revise proofs of matter intended for use in the next morning's editions. One evening there was handed to him the account, done by his musical critic, of a concert, given by Mischa Elman, the famous violinist. In the notice the reviewer had stated that Mr. Elman has played upon a genuine Stradivarius of exquisite tone.

Straightway he ran a blue pencil through the offending lines Then he sent for the writer of the article.

"See," he said, "what I just had to cut out of your stuff. In the future don't let anybody slip anything like this over on you. If Mr. Stradivarius wants to advertise his make of fiddles in this paper our advertising columns are open to him at the customary rate of $2 a line."

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 21.—No club has furnished so many gay quips to the world as the Lambs. On its membership list are the most adroit of comedians who when "at liberty" spend leisure hours in this theatrical sanctuary.

It was here amid kindred spirits that Irvin Cobb won first fame as a story teller. It is where Wilton Lackaye became celebrated for his stinging epigrams. Libbrettists with hidden pads have gleaned material for a thousand and more brilliant lines.

There is a story of one playwright who quit the Lambs in a pique and was unable to write another successful comedy until he rejoined the fold. Skits from the yearly Lambs' Gambol have bolstered up a score of sagging revues.

The spirit of the Lambs is frolicsome. They are always at play and this jovial spirit has been upset only twice in its existence by the thump of flying fists. The club is a counterpart of a London theatrical club, the outgrowth of a nightly suggestion.

Some one would say "Let's all go over to the Lambs"—the kindly and hospitable Charles and Mary Lamb. Hence the name. The jests are chiefly at the expense of the members. And rarely offend. It is about the only theatrical club that does not go out of the theater or allied arts for members.

The other night a popular Hebrew actor who came out of the Ghetto tenements to stardom was playing pinochle with friends. A page boy tiptoed up, touched him on the shoulder and said "Your father is downstairs." A fellow player replied: "Shave him and send him up."

A celebrated mot concerns a distinguished actor who was with Lincoln on the night he was assassinated. He was in a Sunday night sketch for the Lambs' membership and went up in his lines to flounder about dismally. As the curtain descended a gloomy voice shouted: "And they shot Lincoln." The Lambs are planning a new club house further up town.

Then there was a versatile musician entertaining the Lambs one night who after playing a variety of instruments including a comb, handsaw and gourd wound up playing a tune on a bicycle pump. "If that guy had a goitre," bleated a Lamb, "he would play it as a Scotch bag-pipe."

Debt has "made" innumerable people who are intrinsically honest by keeping their noses to the grindstone. A magazine editor tells of a man who plunged into debt to buy a fine toilet set for his wife. After a year of scrimping he had it paid for and decided such a fine array of toilet articles should have a suitable dressing table. He went back on the treadmill to provide. That was the beginning. Today he owns a magnificent home and all the accessories. All inspired by the original idea.

A banker once told me debt was often necessary to success. But added: "Debt is more dangerous than drink unless properly handled."

The wife of a certain novelist returned from a two-months trip to Europe to find two strange dresses in her wardrobe. A hard thing to laugh off, my masters. She said nothing but suffered a nervous breakdown Six weeks later a maid informed her the dresses had been sent there by a sister of the novelist's wife to be given to any one she might select. The maid had neglected to mention the incident.

Three night club performers are now jerking soda in Times Square drug stores and about sixteen cabaret chorus girls are waitresses in a chain of quick restaurants. "At least," said one, "we are still on Broadway."

The old lamp post idea prevails.

KEN MAYNARD AT AMERICAN

Western Story Unfolds in Picture, "Unknown Cavalier."

Another precedent was broken during the filming of "The Unknown Cavalier," the Ken Maynard starring feature, which comes to the American theatre today.

In the first place, it should be realized that the heaven of the "extra person" is a "location" trip—i, e., a trip with a motion picture company to some distant point, at which lodging and meals are provided by the company, and there's a work-check every day.

Albert Rogell, who directed Maynard in this feature, however, had a lot of trouble recruiting the necessary number of cowboys for the thrilling outdoor scenes in this picture. His brother, Sid, who is also his assistant, interviewed numbers of them, but they usually ended the interview by remembering a job they had at some other studio during the period of the proposed location.

What's the answer? It leaked out somehow that the "location" to be used was the heart of Death Valley, which even in winter is one of the hottest places in the world. And in July and August, when this picture was made—well, use your own imagination! However, enough brave spirits were collected and the trip was made, as the picture shows. The company underwent considerable suffering, and at one time for a day were in danger of their lives. But all's well that ends well—and that trip ended in a good picture!

"The Unknown Cavalier" is a Charles R. Rogers production, supervised by Harry J. Brown. It shows the West when the Vigilantes and Romance ruled the plains.

Women of Nicaragua Accept Bobbed Hair But Reject Lip Stick

MANAGUA, Nic.—The women of Nicaragua have accepted bobbed hair from civilization but refused its lipstick.

The visitor to Managua is impressed by the sweet, natural expression of the girls and women encountered in the streets. Their hair is usually bobbed, and their attire, if they belong to the better class of society, is just as neat and up to date as that of their sisters in New York or Mexico City. But they lack the "sporty" appearance so noticable of the women met on the Paseo de la Reforma or on Fifth avenue.

Closer inspection, discreetly conducted, reveals the fact that the lips of Nicaraguan women are unpainted, except in the rarest instances. Therefore they retain much of their sweetness and simplicity which, in the United States, can be found only on the mouths of babies too young to hold a lipstick in their tiny fingers.

KEN MAYNARD AT AMERICAN

Western Story Unfolds in Picture, "Unknown Cavalier."

Another precedent was broken during the filming of "The Unknown Cavalier," the Ken Maynard starring feature, which comes to the American theatre today.

In the first place, it should be realized that the heaven of the "extra person" is a "location" trip—i, e., a trip with a motion picture company to some distant point, at which lodging and meals are provided by the company, and there's a work-check every day.

Albert Rogell, who directed Maynard in this feature, however, had a lot of trouble recruiting the necessary number of cowboys for the thrilling outdoor scenes in this picture. His brother, Sid, who is also his assistant, interviewed numbers of them, but they usually ended the interview by remembering a job they had at some other studio during the period of the proposed location.

What's the answer? It looked out somehow that the "location" to be used was the heart of Death Valley, which even in winter is one of the hottest places in the world. And in July and August, when this picture was made—well, use your own imagination! However, enough brave spirits were collected and the trip was made, as the picture shows. The company underwent considerable suffering, and at one time for a day were in danger of their lives. But all's well that ends well—and that trip ended in a good picture!

"The Unknown Cavalier" is a Charles R. Rogers production, supervised by Harry J. Brown. It shows the West when the Vigilantes and Romance ruled the plains.

Women of Nicaragua Accept Bobbed Hair But Reject Lip Stick

MANAGUA, Nic.—The women of Nicaragua have accepted bobbed hair from civilization but refused its lipstick.

The visitor to Managua is impressed by the sweet, natural expression of the girls and women encountered in the streets. Their hair is usually bobbed, and their attire, if they belong to the better class of society, is just as neat and up to date as that of their sisters in New York or Mexico City. But they lack the "sporty" appearance so noticable of the women met on the Paseo de la Reforma or on Fifth avenue.

Closer inspection, discreetly conducted, reveals the fact that the lips of Nicaraguan women are unpainted, except in the rarest instances. Therefore they retain much of their sweetness and simplicity which, in the United States, can be found only on the mouths of babies too young to hold a lipstick in their tiny fingers.

Chinese Brigands Cut Railroad Line, Capture Frenchman

PARIS, April 21.—Chinese brigands have cut the railroad line between the frontier of Indo-China and Yunnan-Fu and have captured a French engineer and are holding him for ransom, according to a report to the foreign office this afternoon.

Miss Mary I. Craig, of Philadelphia, a missionary, was kidnaped by brigands in Yunnan-Fu last week, and her release has not yet been reported.

COLD WEATHER CHECKS RELIEF IN FLOOD ZONE

Mississippi Valley Homeless Number 50,000.

ILLNESS SPREADS

Other Levee Breaks Feared; One Town Inundated.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 21. — The main levee at Scott, Miss., crumbled before the rushing torrents of the Mississippi river early today, according to reports received here.

Waters from this break will flood Scott, Leland, Boliver and adjacent towns. Temporary levee being built by the American Legion, state convicts and three hundred volunteers was still holding and may prevent much damage, it was believed.

The surging current was rushing through the break at Scott at an estimated speed of 30 miles an hour, the report said.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 21.—A cold snap descended on the Mississippi flood district today, in the wake of freakish winds and torrential rains which has made relief work among the 50,000 homeless extremely difficult.

More moderate temperatures are expected in 24 hours and this will greatly alleviate the situation among the refugees who have been huddled in tents and box cars since the rampaging Mississippi and its tributaries crashed through cement barriers and engulfed the countryside.

Many of the flood sufferers are ill with various kinds of sickness. Many have severe colds from rain and exposure while a number of children in the Arkansas refuge camps are reported to be suffering from measles, mumps and the whooping cough.

Flood Waters Spread.

Flood waters today were rapidly spreading out over the entire St. Francis basin, and hopes of replacing the main Mississippi levee near New Madrid, Mo., have been abandoned. The levee at that point has been swept away for a distance of ten miles.

Clarendon, Ark., where the crumbling White river levee sent the turbulent waters flowing into the town at a speed of 40 miles an hour, was under 15 feet of water today. Clarendon's streets were canals and scores of houses were reported to have been washed away. The town's 3,000 population fled to the hills.

The damage done thus far by the Mississippi river flood, the worst in its history, is incalculable. A territory estimated at more than 100 miles square in southern Missouri, southern Illinois, eastern Arkansas, western Kentucky, western Tennessee and western Mississippi is inundated.

A number variously estimated between 50,000 and 75,000 were forced to flee their homes, but whether any of these lost their lives probably will not be known until the waters return to their beds.

Mississippi Still Rising.

The Mississippi was still rising at Memphis and will reach its probable crest of 46 feet by Saturday. After this, the waters will gradually decline unless there is more rain in the Mississippi valley.

It will be at least three more weeks before the refugees can return to their water-logged houses. Many will return and find that their homes have been swept away.

More levee breaks were threatened today.

Attention of government engineers was turned to Leland, Miss., where the main levee of the Mississippi was gradually crumbling away, threatening to flood a half dozen towns and thousands of acres of farmlands.

Water was topping the levee in Bolivar county, near Scott, Miss., at daybreak, and the town's population of several thousand were making hurried preparation to evacuate in fear of a break.

ELYRIA BANK CLERK MISSING

Disappears After Wife Receives Mysterious Phone Call.

ELYRIA, O., April 21.—Frederick L. Brown, 35, abstractor for the Guarantee Title and Trust company, and prominent member of the Elyria Choral society, today had suddenly disappeared from his home here.

According to his wife's story to authorities, Brown started for choir practice, scheduled for 7 p. m. Wednesday. When he failed to return home at the usual time, Mrs Brown became alarmed and notified the police. It then developed that the missing man had not attended the choir practice, and that all of his belongings had disappeared from the Guarantee Title and Trust company office.

Mrs. Brown received a mysterious phone call just prior to her husband's disappearance. The party who called, told Mrs. Brown that her husband "had better watch his step." Asked who was speaking, the voice replied, "Never mind" and the conversation was cut off.

Always Merry and Bright

When You Get That "Kruschen" Feeling

Grandpa is a good humored old scout and—

Nothing in this world is more infectious than good humour.

A cheerful disposition is a more powerful factor than most people imagine.

The cheerful one is always welcome radiating optimistic and compelling others to look on the bright side of things.

Cheerfulness, high spirits, a happy outlook, and a hearty appetite are the daily reward of those who take 2 tablets of Kruschen Salts in their breakfast cup of tea or coffee every morning.

And Why?

The reason is that Kruschen Salts remove all impurities from the system and stimulate the healthy flow of the natural juices of the body. Kruschen Salts contain an adequate amount of Sodium and Magnesium, the cathartics or body scavengers; and they possess a rich proportion of Potassium, the vital tonic food of the tissues. You can get this combination in no other way. The six ingredients of Kruschen Salts keep you feeling fit and fine. They are necessary for healthy life. Your body must of necessity obtain these ingredients from somewhere, or you could not live. Normally your system should extract these vital salts from your food, but when, owing to impaired digestion, errors of diet, overwork, anxiety, worry, sedentary occupation, and many other causes, your system does not extract from your food the correct proportion of these essential life-giving salts, then what follows? Depression or headaches, constipation or disordered liver, inactive kidneys, rheumatism, gout or sciatica, lumbago or eczema—many of which arise from excess of Uric Acid, which is the cause of more troubles than many people suspect.

Kruschen Salts should be your safeguard.

Tasteless in Tea or Coffee

Drop 2 tablets in your breakfast cup every morning — 1 tablet for children. It's the little daily dose that does it.

COLD WEATHER CHECKS RELIEF IN FLOOD ZONE

Mississippi Valley Homeless Number 50,000.

ILLNESS SPREADS

Other Levee Breaks Feared; One Town Inundated.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 21. — The main levee at Scott, Miss., crumbled before the rushing torrents of the Mississippi river early today, according to reports received here.

Waters from this break will flood Scott, Leland, Boliver and adjacent towns. Temporary levee being built by the American Legion, state convicts and three hundred volunteers was still holding and may prevent much damage, it was believed.

The surging current was rushing through the break at Scott at an estimated speed of 30 miles an hour, the report said.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 21.—A cold snap descended on the Mississippi flood district today, in the wake of freakish winds and torrential rains which has made relief work among the 50,000 homeless extremely difficult.

More moderate temperatures are expected in 24 hours and this will greatly alleviate the situation among the refugees who have been huddled in tents and box cars since the rampaging Mississippi and its tributaries crashed through cement barriers and engulfed the countryside.

Many of the flood sufferers are ill with various kinds of sickness. Many have severe colds from rain and exposure while a number of children in the Arkansas refuge camps are reported to be suffering from measles, mumps and the whooping cough.

Flood Waters Spread.

Flood waters today were rapidly spreading out over the entire St. Francis basin, and hopes of replacing the main Mississippi levee near New Madrid, Mo., have been abandoned. The levee at that point has been swept away for a distance of ten miles.

Clarendon, Ark., where the crumbling White river levee sent the turbulent waters flowing into the town at a speed of 40 miles an hour, was under 15 feet of water today. Clarendon's streets were canals and scores of houses were reported to have been washed away. The town's 3,000 population fled to the hills.

The damage done thus far by the Mississippi river flood, the worst in its history, is incalculable. A territory estimated at more than 100 miles square in southern Missouri, southern Illinois, eastern Arkansas, western Kentucky, western Tennessee and western Mississippi is inundated.

A number variously estimated between 50,000 and 75,000 were forced to flee their homes, but whether any of these lost their lives probably will not be known until the waters return to their beds.

Mississippi Still Rising.

The Mississippi was still rising at Memphis and will reach its probable crest of 46 feet by Saturday. After this, the waters will gradually decline unless there is more rain in the Mississippi valley.

It will be at least three more weeks before the refugees can return to their water-logged houses. Many will return and find that their homes have been swept away.

More levee breaks were threatened today.

Attention of government engineers was turned to Leland, Miss., where the main levee of the Mississippi was gradually crumbling away, threatening to flood a half dozen towns and thousands of acres of farmlands.

Water was topping the levee in Bolivar county, near Scott, Miss., at daybreak, and the town's population of several thousand were making hurried preparation to evacuate in fear of a break.

ELYRIA BANK CLERK MISSING

Disappears After Wife Receives Mysterious Phone Call.

ELYRIA, O., April 21.—Frederick L. Brown, 35, abstractor for the Guarantee Title and Trust company, and prominent member of the Elyria Choral society, today had suddenly disappeared from his home here.

According to his wife's story to authorities, Brown started for choir practice, scheduled for 7 p. m. Wednesday. When he failed to return home at the usual time, Mrs. Brown became alarmed and notified the police. It then developed that the missing man had not attended the choir practice, and that all of his belongings had disappeared from the Guarantee Title and Trust company office.

Mrs. Brown received a mysterious phone call just prior to her husband's disappearance. The party who called, told Mrs. Brown that her husband "had better watch his step." Asked who was speaking, the voice replied. "Never mind" and the conversation was cut off.

Chinese Brigands Cut Railroad Line, Capture Frenchman

PARIS, April 21.—Chinese brigands have cut the railroad line between the frontier of Indo-China and Yunnan-Fu and have captured a French engineer and are holding him for ransom, according to a report to the foreign office this afternoon.

Miss Mary I. Craig, of Philadelphia, a missionary, was kidnaped by brigands in Yunnan-Fu last week, and her release has not yet been reported.

Always Merry and Bright

When You Get That "Kruschen" Feeling

Grandpa is a good humored old scout and—

Nothing in this world is more infectious than good humour.

A cheerful disposition is a more powerful factor than most people imagine.

The cheerful one is always welcome radiating optimistic and compelling others to look on the bright side of things.

Cheerfulness, high spirits, a happy outlook, and a hearty appetite are the daily reward of those who take 2 tablets of Kruschen Salts in their breakfast cup of tea or coffee every morning.

And Why?

The reason is that Kruschen Salts remove all impurities from the system and stimulate the healthy flow of the natural juices of the body. Kruschen Salts contain an adequate amount of Sodium and Magnesium, the cathartics or body scavengers; and they possess a rich proportion of Potassium, the vital tonic food of the tissues. You can get this combination in no other way. The six ingredients of Kruschen Salts keep you feeling fit and fine. They are necessary for healthy life. Your body must of necessity obtain these ingredients from somewhere, or you could not live. Normally your system should extract these vital salts from your food, but when, owing to impaired digestion, errors of diet, overwork, anxiety, worry, sedentary occupation, and many other causes, your system does not extract from your food the correct proportion of these essential life-giving salts, then what follows? Depression or headaches, constipation or disordered liver, inactive kidneys, rheumatism, gout or sciatica, lumbago or eczema—many of which arise from excess of Uric Acid, which is the cause of more troubles than many people suspect.

Kruschen Salts should be your safeguard.

Tasteless in Tea or Coffee

Drop 2 tablets in your breakfast cup every morning — 1 tablet for children. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for a Trifle a Day

Two tablets taken every morning in tea, coffee or hot water is found in practice just the right number for a most amazing daily tonic. The medicinal dose for persons suffering from pains of rheumatism and gout or habitual constipation, with inactive liver, etc., is 4 tablets in a tumbler of hot water before breakfast. Get a bottle at your druggist's today and start to get that Kruschen feeling tomorrow. A sixty cent bottle is all you need to learn that "It's the little daily dose that does it."

U. S. Marines Aid In Forcing Gates Of Soviet Grounds

PEKING, April 21.—A detachment of 25 international troops, composed of five Americans, five British, five Japanese, five Italian and five French, under command of Col. Little, of the United States marine corps, forced the gate of the Soviet embassy compound at noon today taking up a position to defend the legation quarter.

The defenders occupy part of the wall fronting the United States legation. The position occupies itself only a small portion of the Soviet embassy compound. The compound itself has been occupied by Chinese police ever since the raid there two weeks ago.

American marines scaled the wall, breaking open the gate with sledge hammers.

Day and Night Firemen on Duty In Hilltop Zone

By an arrangement, now effective, the Northside fire station will be manned both day and night, giving residents of the hilltop section, including the Maplewood and Park boulevard districts, adequate fire protection.

For the last four years one man has been working at the hilltop station, being on daylight turn one week and night turn the folowing week. With the addition of two new men to the department, the force at Northside was increased.

The fire department now numbers 13 men, including Fire Chief Bryan and Assistant Chief Elmer McMillan. Six men are on duty constantly, four at the Central station and one each at the East End and Northside stations.

Daylight men work from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. while men on the night turn are on duty from 6 p. m. to 8 a. m.

Later, another attack, believed to have been made by rebels, was directed against the marines defending the Pacific railroad in the Posoltega district. The marines fired upon the attackers killing three and wounding one. The marines had no casualties.

Bandits attacked the federal guards at the Nagarole station, but fled when the marines ordered them off.

Another attack by both rebels and bandits was made at Chichigalpa. But the attackers fled when federals and marines fired a few shots. There were few bandit casualties.

POWERS DEFER ANSWER TO CHEN

WASHINGTON, April 21. — Final agreement among the powers on the note to the Chinese Nationalists on the Nanking incident has been delayed, and there is yet no unanimity on the question, it was said at the state department today.

Several of the powers are understood to be delaying action because of the apparent split in the Nationalists' party.

STATE TO TURN GUNS AGAINST HEWITT ALIBI

Sixteen Rebuttal Witnesses Called in Murder Trial.

DOUBLE KILLING

Mother Testifies Boy Was at Home on Night of Crime.

JEFFERSON, O., April 21.—Indications that the trial of Floyd Hewitt, 16-year-old Conneaut youth, who is charged with the murder of Mrs. Fred Brown, and her son, Fred Jr., 5, at North Conneaut, last February 14, will run into the fourth week, were seen here today with announcement that the state has subpoenaed 16 rebuttal witnesses, in an attempt to destroy the "wall of alibis" presented by the defense.

The first of these witnesses will take the stand this afternoon. Outstanding among the group is Dr. Arthur G. Hyde, superintendent of the Massillon state hospital, who will be used as an "expert rebuttal witness," according to Prosecutor C. B. Cook.

Mrs. Olive Hewitt, mother of Floyd, occupied the witness stand during most of the morning session of court, and testified that her son had not been out of the house where they lived, at any time during the night of the murder. Under cross-examination however, she admitted that on the morning following the double crime, when at the home of L. N. Cutler, a neighbor, she "might have stated," at that time, that Floyd was out "for a short time."

Donahey Veto Looms

the state's general revenue fund as part of the legislative program designed to wipe out the deficit in the state treasury.

Signs Clapp Bill.

Governor Donahey today signed the Clapp bill, providing for observance in the public schools of Constitution Day, September 17.

The house finance committee today had under discussion, in executive session, the request of Attorney General E. C. Turner, James W. Huffman, member of the state utilities commission, and others, that the committee restore an appropriation of $50,000 to defray expenses in connection with the state-wide investigation the utilities commission is conducting relative to the telephone rate situation.

The attorney general, late Wednesday, sent a communication to Representative R. D. Williamson, Xenia, chairman of the house finance committee, urging restoration of the $50,000 appropriation, declaring "the statehouse is lousy with lobbyists who seem to be tolerated," and charging that "a determined effort to kill" the telephone rate appropriation had been made.

Pass River Road Resolution

By a vote of 33 to0, the senate adopted a joint resolution by Representative Roberts, Belmont county, memorializing congress to grant additional federal aid for the purpose of completing improvement of the Ohio River road in Belmont and Jefferson counties.

Other measures passed by the senate today include: By Herbert, permitting the state clemency board to parole prisoners at the expiration of the statutory minimum sentence, and nullifying the minimum sentence now authorized for trial judges; By Shafer, prohibiting operation of steam boilers by persons employed by others having licenses; By Carpenter, reducing the number of peremptory challenges of the defense from 16 to 12 and raising the state's challenges from 4 to 6 in first degree murder cases; by Penny, penalizing fradulent advertising by optometrists.

The Herbert and Shafer bills go to the senate and the Carpenter and Penny bills go to the governor.

Vetoes Abele Bill.

The house today received Governor Donahey's message announcing his veto of the Abele bill which sought to permit insurance of public funds, or securities, in custody of county treasurers, against theft.

On motion of Representative Martin Dodd, Toledo, Republican floor leader, the house deferred action on the governor's message.

An unsuccessful effort was made today in the house by Representative W. T. Roberts, Belmont county, to place on its passage the Rebman bill, known as the "yellow dog," or "open shop," measure.

The bill sought to declare void, and "against public policy," provisions in contracts of employment whereby either party undertakes not to join, become, or remain a member of a labor union, or of any organization of employers, or undertakes in such event to withdraw from the contract of employment.

By a vote of 13 to 9, the house finance committee this afternoon restored to the Carpenter sundry claims appropriation bill the $50,000, which it cut out last week, to defray expenses to be incurred in connection with the statewide investigation being conducted by the state utilities commission relative to telephone rates.

The man who whistles at his work is doubtless happy, but how about those who must listen. — Greenville Advocate.

ed, the western mind runs to peaceful philosophy. The Joplin News-Herold says "as to street signs, read them and leap." And the Richmond Missourian quotes a philosophical lady as follows: "Kissing is about to be carried so far that every lady is likely to get so tired of it that it may go utterly out of fashion."

The St. Joseph (Mo.) News-Press says: "The girls have responded nobly to the appeal for the observance of paint-up weeks."

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 21.—Strength in the railroad stocks, the rubber and tire stocks and a few of the motor and specialty shares were the outstanding features of the market at the beginning of trading today. Selling pressure increased as the session advanced, and the market as a whole developed an irregular trend.

Marking down on the Bank of England rate from 5 to 4 1-2 per cent, led to conjecture as to the prospect of similar action by the directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York at their meeting here today. Announcement of the action of the directors, if any, will not be made until after the close of the market.

Business and industrial reports were generally favorable, though the decline in forward steel orders and the forecasted decrease in 1927 business for the automobile manufacturers was hardly to the liking of the bulls in these stocks. Call money was unchanged at 4 per cent.

The rise of Rock Island to $100 a share, reaching this goal for the first time in ten years of operation of the reorganized road, was an incident of the railroad group. The stock was placed on a $5 annual dividend basis in February, but it is expected that the rate will be increased in a comparatively short time. Katy, Frisco common, Western Maryland and Missouri Pacific were strong.

Kelly-Springfield continued to lead the low-priced tire stocks, reaching 28¼ in its remarkable rise from a low of 9½ earlier in the year. Higher prices for tires before May first is the slogan of the tire manufacturers. Utility stocks were strong, under the lead of Brooklyn Union Gas.

After scoring a new high record above 189, General Motors was freely sold. U. S. Steel also dropped back a point in the second hour, and heaviness extended to other well-known industrial shares. Cotton and grain were firm.

Order Ford Mistrial

also exonerated Aaron Sapiro, plaintiff in the million-dollar case.

In granting the motion for a mistrial, Judge Raymond heatedly condemned a Detroit newspaper for publishing an interview with Mrs. Hoffman relative to the charges against her. The interview, he said, was an invasion of the court's functions.

After referring to the fact that he had examined Mrs. Hoffman, the court said:

"The whole matter was turned over to the department of justice for a fair and impartial investigation. That investigation is not complete and the court does not expect a report until later in the day."

Sapiro Exonerated.

The court said he was extremely loath to grant a mistrial because of the five weeks spent in taking testimony. He mentioned having denied two previous motions for a mistrial, one by each side.

"In all fairness of the juror in question," the court added, "it must be stated that up until this time, the investigation did not disclose any facts that warrant the filing of charges against her on a matter that would be very serious if true.

"There may have been indiscretion or improper conduct on her part but the court has very grave doubts if this juror has participated in any bribery or any attempt at bribery.

"I have no evidence whatever that Mr. Sapiro, the plaintiff in this case, has indulged in any improper conduct in reference to the jury."

The court added although that it was possible that the government investigation might disclose new evidence of the alleged plot.

The court condemned, however, both Ford and Sapiro for giving out interviews last night on the bribery charges. He said the affidavits had not been filed in court until 9:30 this morning, although stories had appeared in this morning's newspapers.

The judge then discharged the jury but ordered all subjoenas in force for a new trial.

"This entire matter bears the mark of a perfect frame-up," said Attorney Gallagher, counsel for Sapiro.

U. S. Marines Aid In Forcing Gates Of Soviet Grounds

PEKING, April 21.—A detachment of 25 international troops, composed of five Americans, five British, five Japanese, five Italian and five French, under command of Col. Little, of the United States marine corps, forced the gate of the Soviet embassy compound at noon today taking up a position to defend the legation quarter.

The defenders occupy part of the wall fronting the United States legation. The position occupies itself only a small portion of the Soviet embassy compound. The compound itself has been occupied by Chinese police ever since the raid there two weeks ago.

American marines scaled the wall, breaking open the gate with sledge hammers.

STATE TO TURN GUNS AGAINST HEWITT ALIBI

Sixteen Rebuttal Witnesses Called in Murder Trial.

DOUBLE KILLING

Mother Testifies Boy Was at Home on Night of Crime.

JEFFERSON, O., April 21.—Indications that the trial of Floyd Hewitt, 16-year-old Conneaut youth, who is charged with the murder of Mrs. Fred Brown, and her son, Fred Jr., 5, at North Conneaut, last February 14, will run into the fourth week, were seen here today with announcement that the state has subpoenaed 16 rebuttal witnesses, in an attempt to destroy the "wall of alibis" presented by the defense.

The first of these witnesses will take the stand this afternoon. Outstanding among the group is Dr. Arthur G. Hyde, superintendent of the Massillon state hospital, who will be used as an "expert rebuttal witness," according to Prosecutor C. B. Cook.

Mrs. Olive Hewitt, mother of Floyd, occupied the witness stand during most of the morning session of court, and testified that her son had not been out of the house where they lived, at any time during the night of the murder. Under cross-examination however, she admitted that on the morning following the double crime, when at the home of L. N. Cutler, a neighbor, she "might have stated," at that time, that Floyd was out "for a short time."

Donahey Veto Looms

the state's general revenue fund as part of the legislative program designed to wipe out the deficit in the state treasury.

Signs Clapp Bill.

Governor Donahey today signed the Clapp bill, providing for observance in the public schools of Constitution Day, September 17.

The house finance committee today had under discussion, in executive session, the request of Attorney General E. C. Turner, James W. Huffman, member of the state utilities commission, and others, that the committee restore an appropriation of $50,000 to defray expenses in connection with the state-wide investigation the utilities commission is conducting relative to the telephone rate situation.

The attorney general, late Wednesday, sent a communication to Representative R. D. Williamson, Xenia, chairman of the house finance committee, urging restoration of the $50,000 appropriation, declaring "the statehouse is lousy with lobbyists who seem to be tolerated," and charging that "a determined effort to kill" the telephone rate appropriation had been made.

Pass River Road Resolution

By a vote of 33 to0, the senate adopted a joint resolution by Representative Roberts, Belmont county, memorializing congress to grant additional federal aid for the purpose of completing improvement of the Ohio River road in Belmont and Jefferson counties.

Other measures passed by the senate today include: By Herbert, permitting the state clemency board to parole prisoners at the expiration of the statutory minimum sentence, and nullifying the minimum sentence now authorized for trial judges; By Shafer, prohibiting operation of steam boilers by persons employed by others having licenses; By Carpenter, reducing the number of peremptory challenges of the defense from 16 to 12 and raising the state's challenges from 4 to 6 in first degree murder cases; by Penny, penalizing fradulent advertising by optometrists.

The Herbert and Shafer bills go to the senate and the Carpenter and Penny bills go to the governor.

Vetoes Abele Bill.

The house today received Governor Donahey's message announcing his veto of the Abele bill which sought to permit insurance of public funds, or securities, in custody of county treasurers, against theft.

On motion of Representative Martin Dodd, Toledo, Republican floor leader, the house deferred action on the governor's message.

An unsuccessful effort was made today in the house by Representative W. T. Roberts, Belmont county, to place on its passage the Rebman bill, known as the "yellow dog," or "open shop," measure.

The bill sought to declare void, and "against public policy," provisions in contracts of employment whereby either party undertakes not to join, become, or remain a member of a labor union, or of any organization of employers, or undertakes in such event to withdraw from the contract of employment.

By a vote of 13 to 9, the house finance committee this afternoon restored to the Carpenter sundry claims appropriation bill the $50,000, which it cut out last week, to defray expenses to be incurred in connection with the statewide investigation being conducted by the state utilities commission relative to telephone rates.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 21.—Strength in the railroad stocks, the rubber and tire stocks and a few of the motor and specialty shares were the outstanding features of the market at the beginning of trading today. Selling pressure increased as the session advanced, and the market as a whole developed an irregular trend.

Marking down on the Bank of England rate from 5 to 4 1-2 per cent, led to conjecture as to the prospect of similar action by the directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York at their meeting here today. Announcement of the action of the directors, if any, will not be made until after the close of the market.

Business and industrial reports were generally favorable, though the decline in forward steel orders and the forecasted decrease in 1927 business for the automobile manufacturers was hardly to the liking of the bulls in these stocks. Call money was unchanged at 4 per cent.

The rise of Rock Island to $100 a share, reaching this goal for the first time in ten years of operation of the reorganized road, was an incident of the railroad group. The stock was placed on a $5 annual dividend basis in February, but it is expected that the rate will be increased in a comparatively short time. Katy, Frisco common, Western Maryland and Missouri Pacific were strong.

Kelly-Springfield continued to lead the low-priced tire stocks, reaching 28¼ in its remarkable rise from a low of 9½ earlier in the year. Higher prices for tires before May first is the slogan of the tire manufacturers. Utility stocks were strong, under the lead of Brooklyn Union Gas.

After scoring a new high record above 189, General Motors was freely sold. U. S. Steel also dropped back a point in the second hour, and heaviness extended to other well-known industrial shares. Cotton and grain were firm.

Order Ford Mistrial

also exonerated Aaron Sapiro, plaintiff in the million-dollar case.

In granting the motion for a mistrial, Judge Raymond heatedly condemned a Detroit newspaper for publishing an interview with Mrs. Hoffman relative to the charges against her. The interview, he said, was an invasion of the court's functions.

After referring to the fact that he had examined Mrs. Hoffman, the court said:

"The whole matter was turned over to the department of justice for a fair and impartial investigation. That investigation is not complete and the court does not expect a report until later in the day."

Sapiro Exonerated.

The court said he was extremely loath to grant a mistrial because of the five weeks spent in taking testimony. He mentioned having denied two previous motions for a mistrial, one by each side.

"In all fairness of the juror in question," the court added, "it must be stated that up until this time, the investigation did not disclose any facts that warrant the filing of charges against her on a matter that would be very serious if true.

"There may have been indiscretion or improper conduct on her part but the court has very grave doubts if this juror has participated in any bribery or any attempt at bribery.

"I have no evidence whatever that Mr. Sapiro, the plaintiff in this case, has indulged in any improper conduct in reference to the jury."

The court added although that it was possible that the government investigation might disclose new evidence of the alleged plot.

The court condemned, however, both Ford and Sapiro for giving out interviews last night on the bribery charges. He said the affidavits had not been filed in court until 9:30 this morning, although stories had appeared in this morning's newspapers.

The judge then discharged the jury but ordered all subjoenas in force for a new trial.

"This entire matter bears the mark of a perfect frame-up," said Attorney Gallagher, counsel for Sapiro.

DYKE-KEYS CO. ONE UNIT OF BIG MERGER

Joins With Pittsburgh and Steubenville Stores in Deal.

OFFICERS NAMED

Dr. C. R. Larkins Elected President of Corporation.

Consolidation of The Dyke-Keys company of East Liverpool and Steubenville and the Dyke Motor Supply company, Pittsburgh, one of the largest distributors of automobile supplies in the country, was announced this week.

The new company, which will continue as the Dyke-Keys Motor Supply company, now has four stores—the East Liverpool business located at 115 West Fifth street; the Steubenville store at 419 Washington street and the two Pittsburgh stores, 800 Webster avenue and 2927 Baum boulevard.

Officers of the reorganized company are: Dr. C. R. Larkins, East Liverpool, president; A. E. Dyke, Pittsburgh, vice-president; H. B. Keys, this city, secretary-treasurer and general manager, and C. W. Keys, assistant secretary.

The local company took over the McHugh-Keys store at Steubenville, February 2, when the name was changed to The Dyke-Keys company. During the remainder of the year the two Pittsburgh stores will continue to operate under the old name but after the first of 1928 will be known as The Dyke-Keys company.

A manufacturers' display of automobile and garage equipment, tires, tubes and other accessories for the use of the automobile owner will take place at the Steubenville store next week, opening April 25 and closing April 30. Displays in Manley garage equipment, the Black & Decker products, United States air compressors, Walker jacks, American hammered rings and Diamond tires and tubes, of which the company is the distributor in this section, will be featured.

The Steubenville store occupying two floors and basement of a building 130 feet in depth is said to be one of the most up-to-date establishments of its kind in eastern Ohio. The East Liverpool store, having a stock slightly smaller than the Steubenville establishment, has one floor and a basement in the Fifth street location with an additional ware room in West Sixth street.

The company, which conducts a wholesale business only claims to be the best equipped in eastern Ohio, guaranteeing a 48-hour service. Complete lines of automobile supplies, garage equipment, genuine replacement parts, tires and tubes are handled. It supplies the retail trade in eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and the upper section of West Virginia, six salesmen being on the road.

The East Liverpool store was opened in April, 1923, when the Keys Motor Supply company was organized to handle both the wholesale and retail trade. Keys was associated with The Dyke Motor Supply company in Pittsburgh for seven and one-half years before coming to East Liverpool.

Complete announcement of the consolidation will appear in the Saturday edition of The Review-Tribune.

BETHANY COLLEGE HAS BIG LIBRARY

Bethany college now boasts a library of 18,000 books, about 350 having been added this year.

One of the most recent books that has been added is "The Life of Joseph Rucker Lamar." Justice Lamar is one of Bethany's most renowned graduates. He was justice of the supreme court for several years.

Joseph Lamar entered Bethany college in 1875. He was a pitcher for the college baseball team, a prompter and an occasional actor in the college theatricals an enthusiastic member of his Greek letter fraternity, and one who could be counted on for most social functions. He graduated in 1877 and in 1879 married Clarinda Pendleton, the daughter of Dr. William Pendleton, the president of Bethany college. For one year he was instructor of Latin at the college.

The volume is an interesting biography, and much is written in the book about the college life at Bethany with many discriptions of the surrounding country.

For the German department 250 classics have been bought. It was through the efforts of Dr. R. E. Saleski's sister who is a student at Leipzig that these were procured at such a good price. Dr. Saleski is professor of German at Bethany college.

No Need to be Embarrassed by Catarrh

There is such humiliation in the offensive breath, catarrhal deafness, constant raising of mucus and other annoyances of catarrh, that no one willingly puts up with it any more.

Catarrh quickly disappears when you remove the cause—an inflamed condition of the mucous membranes of nose, throat and head. Reduce this inflammation and a healthy condition is restored.

To do this use Hall's Catarrh Medicine, effective for over 40 years. Ask your druggist. Price 85c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE

NUN, 89, HEADS OHIO CONVENT

Illness Does Not Stop Work of Mother Superior.

COLUMBUS, O., April 21—An 89-year-old nun is carrying out the duties of superior of the Convent of the Good Shepherd here from her sick bed. She is Mother Mary St. Agnes, and confined to her bed for the last two years.

The mother superior has been ill for the last five years—but illness has not stopped her from pushing forward in the work of trying to put women and girls on the right path—has not weakened her will and courage to carry on until the end.

From a bed in a small undecorated room, save for flowers and bare-walled but for a crucifix, she signs checks, looks after correspondence and all executive work brought before her as she did 10 years ago when she first took the desk as head of the convent.

She tells rather shyly of how she made the swaddling clothes for a baby boy who later became president of the United States and chief justice of the United States—William Howard Taft.

When the convent was established more than 10 years ago Mother Mary St. Agnes, with five sisters, did needlework in order to keep up the expenses of the convent. It was thus that she became an expert needlewoman and made clothes for the president-to-be.

Mother Mary St. Agnes is one of the nationally recognized figures in the Catholic sisterhoods of the United States. In her early years she came to the United States from Germany and settled with her parents at Louisville, Ky. She entered a convent in 1856.

She helped found the convent of Good Shepherd at Louisville and at Cincinnati.

Illness Does Not Stop Work of Mother Superior.

COLUMBUS, O., April 21—An 89-year-old nun is carrying out the duties of superior of the Convent of the Good Shepherd here from her sick bed. She is Mother Mary St. Agnes, and confined to her bed for the last two years.

The mother superior has been ill for the last five years—but illness has not stopped her from pushing forward in the work of trying to put women and girls on the right path—has not weakened her will and courage to carry on until the end.

From a bed in a small undecorated room, save for flowers and bare-walled but for a crucifix, she signs checks, looks after correspondence and all executive work brought before her as she did 10 years ago when she first took the desk as head of the convent.

She tells rather shyly of how she made the swaddling clothes for a baby boy who later became president of the United States and chief justice of the United States—William Howard Taft.

When the convent was established more than 10 years ago Mother Mary St. Agnes, with five sisters, did needlework in order to keep up the expenses of the convent. It was thus that she became an expert needlewoman and made clothes for the president-to-be.

Mother Mary St. Agnes is one of the nationally recognized figures in the Catholic sisterhoods of the United States. In her early years she came to the United States from Germany and settled with her parents at Louisville, Ky. She entered a convent in 1856.

She helped found the convent of Good Shepherd at Louisville and at Cincinnati.

SENATE DEFEATS PAY SLASH BILL

A move to reduce the pay of members of the legislature found short shrift in the senate yesterday, that body defeating an amendment offered by Senator Hiner to a proposed amendment to the constitution.

Declaring that in public office it had become the habit for everybody to "have his hand out," Senator Hiner proposed that while the amendment proposing return to consecutive 60-day legislative sessions was being put to the people, the law be revised to pay legislators their $500 salary only for the year during which the biennial session was held with an added provision of $8 a day for extra sessions. The Hiner proposal was defeated and the bill for submitting the 60-day proposal to popular vote, together with its companion resolution, were advanced to final reading. Another constitutional amendment resolution affecting election of judges in judicial circuits, likewise went along to its final reading in the senate.

GILDA 'CABARET' GRAY IS GREAT

Dancer's Second Picture Decided Hit at Ceramic.

It's here at last—the real "inside story" of Broadway night life!

Gilda Gray's new Paramount picture, "Cabaret," which arrived at the Ceramic theatre yesterday is IT! "Cabaret" towers above everything of the sort which has preceded it. If authenticity is sought—if you want to know exactly what the clubs look like, who the entertainers are, what dances are being danced or what clothes are being worn—"Cabaret" should be seen. And if there is one woman in America who knows night clubs, Gilda Gray is she. Her life story is too well known to need recounting here, but it should be noted that Gilda first won aplause as a cabaret entertainer. Because of this, "Cabaret" is real!

Gloria Trask found fame awaiting her in the Club Costigan and she also found love. Detective Tom Westcott was more than ordinarily interested in her and so was Sam Roberts. While the latter was more affluential Gloria disliked him because of the grip he exerted on her brother, Andy. One night she determined to find out exactly what kind of an axe he held over the boy's head. But—Andy entered and threw Roberts to the floor. He fired a gun, Andy did the same and the gang leader was dead! The shots weren't heard because of a jazz band in the next room. Gloria danced her wounded brother through the crowded dance floor and out—but why go further?

"Cabaret" was written by a master melodramatist, Owen Davis. Chester Conklin is co-featured with Tim Moore. Robert C. Vignola directed.

5000 miles in 4909 minutes!

Studebaker Commander maintains mile-a-minute speed for 81 hours, 49 minutes

5 amazing records for speed and endurance established by Big Six

NEVER before has any automobile in America traversed 5,000 miles in less than 5,000 consecutive minutes.

A stock Studebaker did it—The Commander, a closed car fully equipped, including even spare tire.

In official tests under the sanction and observation of the American Automobile Association this stock Studebaker, identical with the car you can buy in any Studebaker sales room, not only established the amazing new record of 5,000 miles in 4909 minutes total elapsed time, but also set four other records.

2500 miles in 40 hours, 12 minutes, 54 seconds total elapsed time. An average speed of 62.16 miles per hour.

3102½ miles in 50 hours total elapsed time. An average of 62.05 miles per hour.

3500 miles in 56 hours, 47 minutes, 32½ seconds total elapsed time. An average speed of 61.62 miles per hour.

4,414 miles in 72 hours total elapsed time. An average speed of 61.3 miles per hour.

5,000 miles in 81 hours, 48 minutes, 22 seconds total elapsed time. An average speed of 61.12 miles per hour. No automobile or other vehicle in America has travelled so far so fast. No stock closed car has ever approached this record.

Here is what these records mean to you:

1. It is possible to purchase a truly great automobile at a moderate price. These records prove that The Commander has justly been called "the greatest post-war achievement of automotive engineering."
2. The Commander, because of the superabundant power of its Big Six engine, will perform eagerly, easily, smoothly, with no labor or effort, any and all tasks placed upon it.
3. Studebaker has produced in these new models, cars which will excel even the staunch, dependable Studebakers of the past, in low repair and maintenance costs.

Any motor expert will tell you that 5,000 miles at more than a mile a minute is equivalent in strain and stress to 25,000 miles of ordinary driving. Yet in this terrible test the only replacements or repairs were three grease-cups, one spark-plug and one punctured tire. Only one pint of water was used.

NOW! Drive a Commander yourself. Know this great car through your own hands and feet. These shattered records merely dramatize the thrilling performance which Studebaker Commander owners everywhere are enjoying. They explain why the Studebaker Big Six is far out-selling the combined totals of all other cars in the world of equal or greater rated horsepower. The exact duplicate of this record-shattering car is waiting for you at Studebaker showrooms.

Commander Models and their One-Profit Prices: Sedan, $1585; Victoria, $1575; (with broadcloth upholstery, $1645); Coupe, $1545; (with rumble seat, $1645). Other Studebaker and Erskine models range in price from $945 to $2245. All prices f. o. b. factory

5000 miles in 4909 minutes!

Studebaker Commander maintains mile-a-minute speed for 81 hours, 49 minutes

5 amazing records for speed and endurance established by Big Six

NEVER before has any automobile in America traversed 5,000 miles in less than 5,000 consecutive minutes.

A stock Studebaker did it—The Commander, a closed car fully equipped, including even spare tire.

In official tests under the sanction and observation of the American Automobile Association this stock Studebaker, identical with the car you can buy in any Studebaker sales room, not only established the amazing new record of 5,000 miles in 4909 minutes total elapsed time, but also set four other records.

2500 miles in 40 hours, 12 minutes, 54 seconds total elapsed time. An average speed of 62.16 miles per hour.

3102½ miles in 50 hours total elapsed time. An average of 62.05 miles per hour.

3500 miles in 56 hours, 47 minutes, 32½ seconds total elapsed time. An average speed of 61.62 miles per hour.

4,414 miles in 72 hours total elapsed time. An average speed of 61.3 miles per hour.

5,000 miles in 81 hours, 48 minutes, 22 seconds total elapsed time. An average speed of 61.12 miles per hour. No automobile or other vehicle in America has travelled so far so fast. No stock closed car has ever approached this record.

Here is what these records mean to you:

1. It is possible to purchase a truly great automobile at a moderate price. These records prove that The Commander has justly been called "the greatest post-war achievement of automotive engineering."
2. The Commander, because of the super-abundant power of its Big Six engine, will perform eagerly, easily, smoothly, with no labor or effort, any and all tasks placed upon it.
3. Studebaker has produced in these new models, cars which will excel even the staunch, dependable Studebakers of the past, in low repair and maintenance costs.

Any motor expert will tell you that 5,000 miles at more than a mile a minute is equivalent in strain and stress to 25,000 miles of ordinary driving. Yet in this terrible test the only replacements or repairs were three grease-cups, one spark-plug and one punctured tire. Only one pint of water was used.

NOW! Drive a Commander yourself. Know this great car through your own hands and feet. These shattered records merely dramatize the thrilling performance which Studebaker Commander owners everywhere are enjoying. They explain why the Studebaker Big Six is far out-selling the combined totals of all other cars in the world of equal or greater rated horsepower. The exact duplicate of this record-shattering car is waiting for you at Studebaker showrooms.

Commander Models and their One-Profit Prices: Sedan, $1585; Victoria, $1575; (with broadcloth upholstery, $1645); Coupe, $1545; (with rumble seat, $1645). Other Studebaker and Erskine models range in price from $945 to $2245. All prices f. o. b. factory take S. S. S. before each meal regularly — and you will soon have your appetite back.

Do this for me—

So much depends on your appetite—your strength and vitality—your position—our happiness.

Remember, how it used to be when you could hardly wait for mealtime? And then, sit down and eat several helpings of everything—enjoy every morsel and get up from the table feeling satisfied with the World, happy with everybody and ready for anything.

But what a difference in living when even the sight and smell of food sickens you! Never hungry—no matter how tempting the food is—nothing tasting right. And then, after nibbling at a few bites, feeling worse than ever.

Oh, life is hardly worth living this way. And yet, all in the World the matter with you is that you are starving for rich, red blood. It is acknowledged everywhere that S.S.S. helps Nature build these healthy red-blood-cells by the millions!

All you need to do to get back that wonderful appetite is to build rich, red-blood-cells with S.S.S. It's simple. Just try it, like thousands are doing every day. See for yourself what S.S.S. will do.

S.S.S. means blood with a punch—brimful of new life and energy. Get your S.S.S. at any good druggist. The larger size is more economical.

Do this for me—

take S. S. S. before each meal regularly — and you will soon have your appetite back.

So much depends on your appetite—your strength and vitality—your position—our happiness.

Remember, how it used to be when you could hardly wait for mealtime? And then, sit down and eat several helpings of everything—enjoy every morsel and get up from the table feeling satisfied with the World, happy with everybody and ready for anything.

But what a difference in living when even the sight and smell of food sickens you! Never hungry—no matter how tempting the food is—nothing tasting right. And then, after nibbling at a few bites, feeling worse than ever.

Oh, life is hardly worth living this way. And yet, all in the World the matter with you is that you are starving for rich, red blood. It is acknowledged everywhere that S.S.S. helps Nature build these healthy red-blood-cells by the millions!

All you need to do to get back that wonderful appetite is to build rich, red-blood-cells with S.S.S. It's simple. Just try it, like thousands are doing every day. See for yourself what S.S.S. will do.

S.S.S. means blood with a punch—brimful of new life and energy. Get your S.S.S. at any good druggist. The larger size is more economical.

Recreation Baseball League To Open Season Week Of May 9

12 TEAMS SET FOR CAMPAIGN; FEES ARE FILED

Each Club Permitted to Carry 15 Players on Roster.

The Review-Tribune Recreation or "soft ball" league will lift the lid on its opening season during the week of May 9, with 12 clubs in the race for the inaugural bunting.

Preliminary arrangements for the campaign were completed at a meeting of the circuit last night when league managers, and officials, believing that a larger organization would be unwieldy at the start-off, decided to reduce the organization to a one-league status, with 12 clubs competing.

Entry fees were filed by representatives of the following clubs: Roselawns, Printers, Johannes Drugs, Buiger Drugs, Laughlin Acmes, Smith News, Ohio Power, Y. M. C. A., Homer Laughlin, Heimies and Brian Clothiers.

The season will be launched during the week of May 9 and will extend into the first couple of weeks in August with a two-week lay-off period around the Fourth of July.

The league voted to amend the eligibility rule to permit each team to carry 15 players instead of 12. One new rule was added to the code also. The rules committee decided in keeping with regulations in force in practically all leagues of the kind throughout this part of the country, that a ball, striking a batter, is dead and no play can be made on the pitch.

The ruling precludes the possibility of a batter deliberately getting in the way of a pitched ball, or failing to get out of the way of a wide one, in an effort to draw a walk.

She's Still Amateur As Far as Western Board is Concerned

MARY K. BROWNE

CHICAGO, April 21.—Miss Mary K. Browne is still a simon pure amateur as far as the Western Golf association is concerned, President Hobart P. Young indicated today.

Following the ruling of the United States Golf association which declares the California girl ineligible because of her professional tennis activities, Mr. Young was asked what action the Western Golf association would take in fixing her status. He replied that the W. G. A. would not rule on her eligibility to play in amateur tournaments unless she asked it.

Young explained that under the "clear rules" of the W. G. A. he could see no reason why she should be barred.

The W. G. A. controls 400 golf clubs between Pittsburgh and the Pacific coast, but is not under the jurisdiction of the U. S. G. A., the association that yesterday ruled against Miss Browne.

Young added that he thought Miss Browne's disbarment sets up a dangerous precedent that might lead to many embarrassing problems in the future.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Miss Mary K. Browne, of Santa Monica, Cal., one of America's leading women golfers, is ineligible to participate in American amateur golf competition, under a ruling adopted by the United States Gold association. The executive committee declared that in playing professional tennis with C. C. Pyle's troupe, Miss Browne acted in a manner "detrimental to the best interests and true spirit of golf."

YANKS IN TIE FOR TOP PLACE

Detroit, "Dark Horse," Overtakes New York Sluggers.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The champion New York Yankees, who started the season with six straight victories, today are tied for first place with Detroit, the dark horse of the American league race. The Yanks were unable to conquer their Shibe park complex yesterday and lost to the Athletics, 8 to 5, while the Tigers were blanking the Browns, 7 to 0.

The Tigers always have packed a wicked punch, and now they are getting good pitching. Whitehill, who twirled yesterday, held the Brownies to four hits and seven fouls. Fothergill's home run was another feature of Detroit's first home game.

Although the Athletics rate only .500 in the standing of the clubs, they have won four of their last five games and are batting heavily. Cochrane celebrated the A's homecoming yesterday by clouting a homer and a triple against the Yanks, while Branom chipped in with three singles. Both Shocker and Grove, the starting pitchers, took their showers early.

The Pirates, who did not play yesterday, are still in front by a comfortable margin in the National League scramble. The Reds also were idle, but they dropped below Brooklyn to last place when the Dodgers trimmed the Braves, 4 to 3.

The Dodgers scored a blazing triumph, as it were. When Barrett knocked a home run, one fan became so excited that his cigar ignited a piece of bunting on the granstand. The fire department put out the blaze but the Robins refused to be put out until they had scored enough runs to win.

Fred Fitzsimmons had the Phillies eating out of his glove and the Giants captured their inaugural game at home before a crowd of 50,000 by a score of 5 to 1. Lindstrom got four hits. The victory put the Giants in second place.

Wee Willie Sherdel beat the Cubs, 4 to 2, in the Cardinals' opening, but something evidently is wrong in St. Louis. Only 12,000 fans turned out to greet the world's champions, who used to fill the park on opening day when they were tailenders.

The White Sox inaugural was a success with respect to everything but the ball game, which was won by Cleveland, 5 to 4. Lyons and Shaute, the starting pitchers, were shelled off the mound.

The Senators and Red Sox were not scheduled.

BUCKEYES HANG UP 13 WINS

School Lads Achieve Great Record in Past Season.

WINNING 13 games and losing only one in fourteen starts during the past season, the Buckeye basketball team, composed entirely of high school lads, hung up one of the most impressive records that has ever been achieved by a team in its class in the district.

And these youngsters, practically all of whom are juniors in high school next year, in all likelihood, will constitute the foundation of next year's Blue and White five.

Captain-elect Elmer English was the only regular from this year's school squad to stay over for the 1927-28 campaign.

Registering 151 points for the campaign, Felt qualified as high scorer of the outfit. Small was second with 150 points and McConville and Witherow hung up 118 and 115, respectively. The team was coached by William Cox.

The complete scoring records follow:

Captain Wildblood 85; Manager Lindell 80, Witherow 115, Felt 151, McConville 118, Small 130, Skidmore 28, Bailey 24.

Baseball Is Facing Area of Big "Gates"

100,000 Crowd Mark, Once a Mirage, Now Looms as Probability in Near Future.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Baseball's modern millennium, the once visionary 75, now quite feasible crowd of 100,000 at a single game, was more than a mirage on a chimerical sky line today. It became a probability of the more or less immediate future when Edward G. Barrow, business manager of the local American league club, informed the writer that, in all likelihood, the capacity of the Yankee stadium would be increased to 80,000 before the start of the 1928 season.

The stadium, with a seating capacity of some 63,000 at present, is by many thousands the largest edifice dedicated to baseball's popularity and, as such, was deemed at its official opening in 1922 to be the final obeisance before the great god progress.

Yet, within five years, they are talking in terms of alterations, annexes, ante-chambers and additions. And the end is not yet. When they triple-deck all except a nominal section of the bleachers, a development that seems inevitable, the 100,000 goal will be more than achieved. It will be exceeded.

Work on the new addition probably will be started next October, Barrow intimated. He didn't say so, but the writed gained the impression that it might have been begun last winter. But, unfortunately, the boys didn't know then what they know now.

They thought the addicts might turn up absent in great numbers this season because a few random pleasantries had been exchanged under the stands eight years ago when baseball was younger and goofier. But the returns at the turnstiles to date have annulled all trepidation.

The Yanks and Athletics played to 72,000, including standees, at the local opening, a baseball record that won't live long. Some 30,000 to 35,000 members of the garment trade were shut out of the park on that occasion and that is not the kind of business baseball likes to transact. With world series and big fights in the offing, the cry for bigger and better stands is due to get an early hearing.

And New York is not the only city to convince the skeptics than an odd scandal or so merely is part of the general hilarity of modern existence. True, the Yanks were watched by more than 200,000 in the first six games, in spite of the fact that two of them featured the Red Sox, who weren't expected to draw ushers. But other cities did equally well in the matter of comparative attendance; so well, in fact, as to indicate that baseball is on the verge of its biggest business.

Modern preference finds its choice in Camel

PRESENT-DAY taste singles out Camel as its ideal cigarette. This age is the most exacting ever known and it rates Camel first. Camel taste and fragrance come from the choicest tobaccos grown. They lead to supreme smoking pleasure.

You'll never find a higher standard of goodness than in this favorite cigarette. Your own enjoyment will confirm the overwhelming choice of modern smokers.

Recreation Baseball League To Open Season Week Of May 9

12 TEAMS SET FOR CAMPAIGN; FEES ARE FILED

Each Club Permitted to Carry 15 Players on Roster.

The Review-Tribune Recreation or "soft ball" league will lift the lid on its opening season during the week of May 9, with 12 clubs in the race for the inaugural bunting.

Preliminary arrangements for the campaign were completed at a meeting of the circuit last night when league managers, and officials, believing that a larger organization would be unwieldy at the start-off, decided to reduce the organization to a one-league status, with 12 clubs competing.

Entry fees were filed by representatives of the following clubs: Roselawns, Printers, Johannes Drugs, Buiger Drugs, Laughlin Acmes, Smith News, Ohio Power, Y. M. C. A., Homer Laughlin, Heimies and Brian Clothiers.

The season will be launched during the week of May 9 and will extend into the first couple of weeks in August with a two-week lay-off period around the Fourth of July.

The league voted to amend the eligibility rule to permit each team to carry 15 players instead of 12. One new rule was added to the code also. The rules committee decided in keeping with regulations in force in practically all leagues of the kind throughout this part of the country, that a ball, striking a batter, is dead and no play can be made on the pitch.

The ruling precludes the possibility of a batter deliberately getting in the way of a pitched ball, or failing to get out of the way of a wide one, in an effort to draw a walk.

She's Still Amateur As Far as Western Board is Concerned

MARY K. BROWNE

CHICAGO, April 21.—Miss Mary K. Browne is still a simon pure amateur as far as the Western Golf association is concerned, President Hobart P. Young indicated today.

Following the ruling of the United States Golf association which declares the California girl ineligible because of her professional tennis activities, Mr. Young was asked what action the Western Golf association would take in fixing her status. He replied that the W. G. A. would not rule on her eligibility to play in amateur tournaments unless she asked it.

Young explained that under the "clear rules" of the W. G. A. he could see no reason why she should be barred.

The W. G. A. controls 400 golf clubs between Pittsburgh and the Pacific coast, but is not under the jurisdiction of the U. S. G. A., the association that yesterday ruled against Miss Browne.

Young added that he thought Miss Browne's disbarment sets up a dangerous precedent that might lead to many embarrassing problems in the future.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Miss Mary K. Browne, of Santa Monica, Cal., one of America's leading women golfers, is ineligible to participate in American amateur golf competition, under a ruling adopted by the United States Gold association. The executive committee declared that in playing professional tennis with C. C. Pyle's troupe, Miss Browne acted in a manner "detrimental to the best interests and true spirit of golf."

YANKS IN TIE FOR TOP PLACE

Detroit, "Dark Horse," Overtakes New York Sluggers.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The champion New York Yankees, who started the season with six straight victories, today are tied for first place with Detroit, the dark horse of the American league race. The Yanks were unable to conquer their Shibe park complex yesterday and lost to the Athletics, 8 to 5, while the Tigers were blanking the Browns, 7 to 0.

The Tigers always have packed a wicked punch, and now they are getting good pitching. Whitehill, who twirled yesterday, held the Brownies to four hits and seven fouls. Fothergill's home run was another feature of Detroit's first home game.

Although the Athletics rate only .500 in the standing of the clubs, they have won four of their last five games and are batting heavily. Cochrane celebrated the A's homecoming yesterday by clouting a homer and a triple against the Yanks, while Branom chipped in with three singles. Both Shocker and Grove, the starting pitchers, took their showers early.

The Pirates, who did not play yesterday, are still in front by a comfortable margin in the National League scramble. The Reds also were idle, but they dropped below Brooklyn to last place when the Dogers trimmed the Braves, 4 to 3.

The Dodgers scored a blazing triumph, as it were. When Barrett knocked a home run, one fan became so excited that his cigar ignited a piece of bunting on the granstand. The fire department put out the blaze but the Robins refused to be put out until they had scored enough runs to win.

Fred Fitzsimmons had the Phillies eating out of his glove and the Giants captured their inaugural game at home before a crowd of 50,000 by a score of 5 to 1. Lindstrom got four hits. The victory put the Giants in second place.

Wee Willie Sherdel beat the Cubs, 4 to 2, in the Cardinals' opening, but something evidently is wrong in St. Louis. Only 12,000 fans turned out to greet the world's champions, who used to fill the park on opening day when they were tailenders.

The White Sox inaugural was a success with respect to everything but the ball game, which was won by Cleveland, 5 to 4. Lyons and Shaute, the starting pitchers, were shelled off the mound.

The Senators and Red Sox were not scheduled.

School Lads Achieve Great Record in Past Season.

WINNING 13 games and losing only one in fourteen starts during the past season, the Buckeye basketball team, composed entirely of high school lads, hung up one of the most impressive records that has ever been achieved by a team in its class in the district.

And these youngsters, practically all of whom are juniors in high school next year, in all likelihood, will constitute the foundation of next year's Blue and White five.

Captain-elect Elmer English was the only regular from this year's school squad to stay over for the 1927-28 campaign.

Registering 151 points for the campaign, Feit qualified as high scorer of the outfit. Small was second with 150 points and McConville and Witherow hung up 118 and 115, respectively. The team was coached by William Cox.

The complete scoring records follow:

Captain Wildblood 85; Manager Lindell 80, Witherow 115, Feit 151, McConville 118, Small 130, Skidmore 28, Bailey 24.

Buckeyes 40, All Stars 27.

For their season's efforts, or 14 games, the Buckeyes scored 731 points as against 377 by their opponents.

Baseball Is Facing Area of Big "Gates"

100,000 Crowd Mark, Once a Mirage, Now Looms as Probability in Near Future.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Baseball's modern millennium, the once visionary 75, now quite feasible crowd of 100,000 at a single game, was more than a mirage on a chimerical sky line today. It became a probability of the more or less immediate future when Edward G. Barrow, business manager of the local American league club, informed the writer that, in all likelihood, the capacity of the Yankee stadium would be increased to 80,000 before the start of the 1928 season.

The stadium, with a seating capacity of some 63,000 at present, is by many thousands the largest edifice dedicated to baseball's popularity and, as such, was deemed at its official opening in 1922 to be the final obeisance before the great god progress.

Yet, within five years, they are talking in terms of alterations, annexes, ante-chambers and additions. And the end is not yet. When they triple-deck all except a nominal section of the bleachers, a development that seems inevitable, the 100,000 goal will be more than achieved. It will be exceeded.

Work on the new addition probably will be started next October, Barrow intimated. He didn't say so, but the writer gained the impression that it might have been begun last winter. But, unfortunately, the boys didn't know then what they know now.

They thought the addicts might turn up absent in great numbers this season because a few random pleasantries had been exchanged under the stands eight years ago when baseball was younger and goofier. But the returns at the turnstiles to date have annulled all trepidation.

The Yanks and Athletics played to 72,000, including standees, at the local opening, a baseball record that won't live long. Some 30,000 to 35,000 members of the garment trade were shut out of the park on that occasion and that is not the kind of business baseball likes to transact. With world series and big fights in the offing, the cry for bigger and better stands is due to get an early hearing.

And New York is not the only city to convince the skeptics than an odd scandal or so merely is part of the general hilarity of modern existence. True, the Yanks were watched by more than 200,000 in the first six games, in spite of the fact that two of them featured the Red Sox, who weren't expected to draw ushers. But other cities did equally well in the matter of comparative attendance; so well, in fact, as to indicate that baseball is on the verge of its biggest business.

EAST END CLEVER CAST AT THE STRAND

Two New Members Appear in Stage Successes.

Two new members have been added to the cast of the Strand Players, now appearing at the Strand theatre for the mystery play, "The Seventh Guest," which will be offered next week.

Jack Gilchrist is the new leading man who will make his appearance in the stellar role with next week's play. Mr. Mercer is the new character man, who will take the part of a Japanese servant, an important role in the play.

"The Patsy," a comedy drama, which is being offered this week, continues to win favor. In addition to the nightly performances, matinees will be presented this afternon and again on Saturday afternoon.

Ladies will be admitted free at the Monday night performance if accompanied by the holder of one 75-cent reserved seat. Curtain call for the evening shows is 8:15 o'clock.

PLAN TO LAUNCH WORK ON ROADS

Work will shortly begin on a number of road improvements in various sections of Beaver county under the direction of state, county, township and borough officials.

Contracts for several projects in which the state is interested were recently awarded by the state highway department at Harrisburg.

Plans are being made for beginning work in Ohio township where a bond issue for $30,000 was approved in a special election.

SPECIAL MEETS CONTINUE HERE

Meetings are being held nightly except Saturday. Special music is being featured at all services.

Congregational Meeting.

Large number attended the congregational meeting last night in the Tabernacle Church of Christ when plans were discussed for the erection of a new church.

Buick

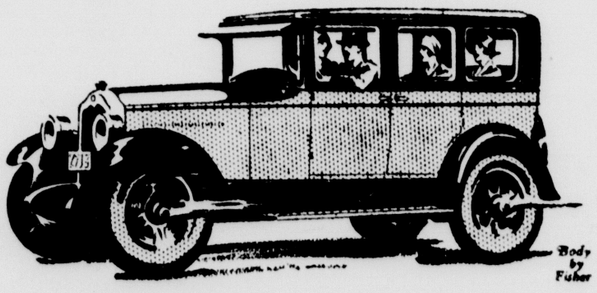
Buick is in a value class

BUICK'S position of leadership is founded on value. Its constant aim is to build each Buick better than the last.

The savings that Buick's tremendous volume provides are used to further enrich quality—by such improvements as the Sealed Chassis, the Torque-Tube-Drive, Mechanical Four-Wheel Brakes, an Engine vibrationless beyond belief, and the increased luxury and refinement Buick offers in its Fisher Bodies.

And today, in keeping with its policy of continual advancement, Buick is constantly seeking to improve its design—constantly searching for the new and better thing—constantly striving still further to increase the value on which Buick's leadership is based.



SEDANS $1195 TO $1995

All prices are f. o. b. Flint, Michigan; government tax to be added. Buick delivered prices are lower because the smallest possible handling charge has been established by the Buick factory. The G. M. A. C. financing plan, the most desirable, is also available. The model illustrated is the Five-Passenger Sedan, Series 115, $1295.

Instinct to Kill Will Bring Wars of Future Says German Reformer

BERLIN — "There will always be war, unless you succeed in destroying the human instinct to kill, and unless you encourage and develop instead the human instinct to preserve and to assist," says Dr. Helene Stoecker, one of the leading German women reformers, in an article published in her periodical, "The New Generation."

Sneering at "sham pacifists" all over the world, Dr. Stoecker holds that, with the exception of small, uninfluential groups, the nations of the world would start another war of the dimensions of the last world war, unhesitatingly, enthusiastically. "It is not because they have forgotten all about the indescribable sufferings they experienced during the last war, but because the killing instinct is still alive that they would do it all over again. And unless we find proper means to bring up people with other instincts, all talk about 'everlasting peace' and 'understanding of peoples' will remain talk and nothing else."

Life guard overcomes effects of damp and cold

A beach patrolman at Atlantic City has found a way to avoid the muscle-lameness that results from standing around all day in a wet bathing suit.

"Just pat on a few drops of Sloan's Liniment. Don't rub. It's the liniment—not the rubbing—that helps. You'll get relief right away. I've tried all sorts of other things, but nothing gets results like Sloan's."

Letters like this from hundreds of users of Sloan's tell of the wonderful relief that Sloan's gives to every kind of muscular pain.

Sloan's gives real and lasting help because it doesn't just deaden pain, it gets at the cause. Right to the place that hurts it brings a healing stream of fresh, new blood. Quickly and surely it carries off the "fatigue-poisons," takes out stiffness and drives away the aches and pains.

No Gangs Out There.

NEWTON, Kan., April 21.—Coming through big Ohio farms yesterday on the Pennsylvania "Manhatten Limited" bound for Chicago, a pond, big or little, indicated the low spots in the fields. Here in Kansas, the wide fields are enormous lakes, about which the Sante Fe fast train, "The Chief," travels toward the Pacific on a high, heavily ballasted roadbed. The only important news out here is "flood news."

The boiling, muddy waters of the Mississippi rise higher and higher. Women and children are removed from danger, men remaining, piling up sand bags to protect weakened levees. The destruction of property will be great.

This nation has lent 11 thousand millions in private loans to Europe recently, in addition to 10 thousand millions lent by government in war excitement. Why not get excited about our own war on the waters?

Those that blame earth's troubles on the sun spots will be interested in the variety of weather demonstrations. Heavy rains, cloudbursts, hail, high wind storms, and at Hale, Missouri, "a twister," local name for a small cyclone, are included. The twister destroyed two blacksmith shops, damaged several buildings.

Hay will be cheap this year on the farms, for crops will be heavy. After the farmer sells and jobber gets the hay, prices will change. Late plowing will be delayed and wheat growers worry about too heavy "top growth."

Wheat grown suddenly too tall falls before high winds or heavy rains, and athletic young gentlemen, please notice: When the wheat stalk is overdevoloped, the head of the wheat containing the grain is feeble. Too much straw means too little wheat.

And too much muscle means too little brain.

CHICAGO is interested in "what happened to Jake Adler and Frank Gallelo," kidnaped, then freed for cash. The two own "The Midnight Frolics" cabaret and are silent wisely.

If a Chicago gang gets you, takes your money, let's you go, keep your mouth shut. Talk, any they "take you for a ride" and you don't come back.

Some think the "cabaret bosses" were kidnaped because one displayed "too big a roll." Others say they had neglected to pay their liquor bills The "Midnight Frolics," it seems were not 100 per cent dry frolics.

Chicago's police suggest that "Egan's Rats," gangsters from St. Louis, kidnaped the boys. St. Louis replies that Chicago needs no help of that kind.

LIBEL ACTION ENDS ABRUPTLY WHEN DEFENSE ACCUSES JUROR

Woman Alleged to Have Talked to Newspapermen.

CALL NEW TRIAL

Counter Charge of "Frame-up" Made by Plaintiff.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, April 21.—The million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel trial ended abruptly today when Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond ordered a mistrial, discharged the jury and remanded the case for a new trial.

Opposing counsel agreed to meet in the judge's chamber on Saturday, April 30, to fix a date for the new trial. It was said the court had no money to pay a new jury, but that counsel might agree to raise a fund for this purpose.

Jury Bribery Plot Alleged.

The mistrial was granted on a motion by counsel for Henry Ford because Mrs. Cora Hoffman, one of the woman jurors, talked to newspapermen about the case.

Opposing counsel aired an alleged jury bribery plot, which Ford attorneys charged in a series of affidavits filed in court. The affidavits, sworn to by Ford attorneys, alleged a man, named J. "Kidd" Miller, had approached Mrs. Hoffman with an offer involving "thousands of dollars."

In filing the mistrial motion, Stewart Hanley, acting chief of Ford's counsel, told the court there were four reasons for dicharging Mrs. Hoffman, all relating to her alleged prejudice toward Ford. He added that the Ford forces would not proceed with only 11 jurors.

"We have come to the conclusion that the conduct of the member of the jury was so improper we cannot proceed with the trial while that member is on the jury," said Hanley. "If that juror is dismissed, we feel we cannot proceed with the remainder of the jury. So, much to our regret, we have to move for a mistrial at this time."

Federal Inquiry Goes On.

The court announced that the department of justice was still investigating the bribery plot charges hurled by Ford's attorneys at Mrs. Hoffman and a man named J. "Kid" Miller. Thus far, he said, there was no evidence to show Mrs. Hoffman had been involved in any such plot. The court

Governor Vic Donahey Will Veto Proposed Half-Mill Tax Levy

Senator Jim Reed, Counsel for Ford, Taken to Hospital

FEDERAL COURT, DETROIT, April 21.—Senator James A. Reed, chief counsel for Henry Ford in the million-dollar libel suit, has been taken to the Henry Ford hospital for observation, it was learned today.

Reed was ordered to the hospital late last night, when he failed to respond to treatment given for an attack of acute indigestion. The senator was stricken on a train last Monday morning, while enroute here from Washington.

Senator Reed was reported to have intestinal pains and his physician ordered him to the hospital for observation.

Physicians at the Ford hospital denied rumors that the Missouri senator is critically ill.

Executive's Message, Rejecting Dodd Emergency Measure, Will go to House This Afternoon.

PROTESTS MADE AGAINST PLAN

Assembly Leaders Stand Pat on Policy Not to Pass Legislation Over Chief's Disapproval.

By C. H. Haddox.

COLUMBUS, O., April 21.—Recommending their passage, the house rules committee today reported out the Marshall and Etling bills, which passed the senate late Wednesday, relating to the compensation of village mayors and justices of the peace and providing for disposition of fines and forfeited bonds of liquor law violators.

COLUMBUS, O., April 21.—Governor Vic Donahey will veto today the Dodd emergency bill providing for a half-mill state direct tax levy and will send his veto message to the house this afternoon, according to announcement made at the governor's office.

When apprised of the governor's intention, Speaker O. C. Gray and other house leaders asserted that they did not believe the governor's veto of the Dodd bill would interfere with plans for a legislative recess tonight, or Friday.

House leaders stated that they stood pat on the policy not to pass the Dodd bill or any other measures over the governor's veto this session.

Hits Revenue-raising Claim.

Governor Donahey, it was stated, has received many protests from all sections of Ohio against the proposed half-mill tax levy. Protestants, it was said, included all of the 88 county auditors in this state, who asserted that the stipulation in the Dodd bill that the proposed tax be collected next June would materially interfere with the operations of their offices.

Claim, also, was made at the governor's office that the proposed state tax levy, if the Dodd bill became effective, would not raise nearly as much revenue as legislative leaders anticipated and that a number of county auditors declared it would be impossible to collect at least a portion of the proposed tax. Legislative leaders estimated that the tax levy would produce aproximately $6,500,000, all of which was to be paid into

BEER IS SEIZED

Camp Habitues Step Across Border as Raiders Arrive.

Captain of Police Conley and Patrolman Leslie Curran broke up a game of poker when they raided a camp near the state line in what is known as "Hell's Half Acres" at 7 o'clock last night.

The seven men stepped across the border into Pennsylvania and made their escape. Four bottles of beer concealed in an empty keg, near the camp, were confiscated.

The camp was located near the improved road, opposite the site of the state line filling station destroyed by fire about two weeks ago.

Police visited a camp in the territory last Monday night, but the habitues with one exception fled into Pennsylvania. One man was taken into custody upon a charge of intoxication. Twenty bottles of home brew and six pints of corn liquor were destroyed by the raiders.

ACCUSED WOMAN WATCHES EACH TALESMAN IN "LOVE" KILLING

Fourth Day of Snyder-Gray Case at Long Island.

MONOTONOUS JOB

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

COURT HOUSE, Long Island City, N. Y., April 21.—The fifth juror, Herman Ballweg, retired, of Jamaica, a stolid, heavy set man, was selected this morning at the trial of Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray, who are accused of beating the woman's husband, Albert Snyder, to death with an iron bar.

Others in the jury box are:

William E. Young, 38, married, a press agent. He is foreman of the jury.

Charles B. Meissner, 50 a landscape gardener, married and with three children.

Harry Arnold, 29, a plumber, unmarried.

Alfred R. Kraimer, 35, a clerk, married and with three children.

The five sat not far from the jury box, chairs tilted against the wall, and watched attorneys for the state and the defense question a new jury box full of talesmen in an effort to obtain more jurors.

Oppose Capital Punishment.

As the monotonous questioning of talesmen proceeded, Mrs. Snyder, her pale, set face framed in a black tight-fitting hat, watched each talesman closely, often craning her neck to get a good look at him. If she did not like his looks or any of his answers, she would pluck at the sleeve of her attorney and quickly this announcement would be made:

"Peremptorily challenged by the Defendant Snyder."

In spite of the numerous challenges made and the slow progress made in the selection of the jury, hope was entertained as court opened this morning that the jury will have been obtained by tomorrow night. Up to the opening of court today, 161 talesmen had been examined and all except four rejected.

Conscientious objection to capital punishment was a sure-fire way to avoid jury duty. So, too, was the statement that the talesman held a fixed opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendants.

The remarkable feature of the trial so far has been the number of citizens who looked upon the icy-eyed, smart-appearing defendant and asserted they were opposed to capital punishment or, in other words, sending a woman to the electric chair.

Cleaner Streets Urged by Speaker At Lions' Meeting

A new municipal building, cleaner streets and more civic pride were urged by Attorney Samuel W. Crawford in an address before members of the Lions' club at their dinner meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last evening. His subject was "Public Blindness as Compared to Private Blindness."

About 20 members of the club attended the meeting.

Dr. C. A. Shafer, Chester, is chairman of the program committee for next Wednesday's meeting.

BOTH MEN PLEAD NOT GUILTY WHEN ARRAIGNED; HEARING ON SATURDAY

Reckless Driving Information Against Joseph Flame, Also Midland, Passenger in Sedan, Dismissed After Charles Williams, 14, Succumbs to Crushed Skull in Hospital.

Gerald McGraw, 22 Grove alley, and Michael D'Amico, Midland, drivers of automobiles which figured in a traffic collision at the corner of St. Clair and McKinnon avenues, late Tuesday night, were held by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today on manslaughter charges following the death of Charles, 14, son of James Williams, also of Grove alley, a passenger in the McGraw car.

The information was preferred by Police Captain Mason Conley.

The two men, who will be given a hearing at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, were released on $2,500 bond each after pleading not guilty. McGraw was represented by Attorney Ben L. Bennett.

Charge of reckless driving filed yesterday against Joseph Flame, Midland, owner of the sedan which was in the collision, was dismissed today, when Flame denied that he was driving the machine at the time of the crash. He was accompanied to court by D'Amico who admitted that he was at the wheel of the car.

Judge Hanley dismissed the reckless driving charge at the request of Solicitor Frank Hoover.

Flame was represented by Attorney S. W. Crawford. Crawford said he would not defend D'Amico as he expects to be called as a witness in the case.

Harry Johannes, Northside druggist, an eye-witness, to the collision, testified at the investigation today.

Funeral Services Saturday.

Young Williams died in the City hospital shortly after 10 o'clock last night from a crushed skull, suffered when he was hurled from the McGraw car.

Carson Hancock, 24, West Seventh street, who sustained lacerations to the chest, face and head and injuries to his back, is convalescing, hospital attendants said. The Williams boy and Hancock were riding on the running boards of the machine, driven by Gerald McGraw, when it crashed into the sedan driven by Joseph Flame, Midland.

No coroner's investigation into the death of Williams will be conducted. The body was removed to the Miller undertaking establishment.

Besides his parents, the victim is survived by four brothers, John, William, Thomas and Robert, and two sisters, Sarah and Pearl, all at home.

Funeral services will be held in the Miller chapel, West Sixth street, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in charge of Dr. Donald W. MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial will be made in the Madison Presbyterian Church cemetery, Lincoln Highway.

Seek Traffic Light.

A movement for the installation of an automatic traffic light at the scene of the fatal crash was launched by residents of the Northside section yesterday. City officials advised no funds were available for such a light, which will cost approximately $180. A subscription paper was then placed in circulation. Approximately $65 had been raised up to noon today.

The St. Clair-McKinnon avenue intersection is regarded as one of the most hazardous in the city, as it is the cross roads for the main highway into Calcutta and the improved road connecting with Anderson boulevard and Park way. It is within one square of the Lincoln school.

FEDERAL TROOPS PURSUE MEXICAN REBELS WHO ATTACKED PASSENGER TRAIN, KILLING AND BURNING TO DEATH 100

MEXICO CITY, April 21.—A heavy force of federal troops, under personal direction of War Minister Amaro, is today in pursuit of a band of from 500 to 1,000 rebels that attacked a passenger train near Guadalajara, killing and burning to death more than 100 passengers, including 20 children and a number of women.

Dr. Mestre, of the Mexican treasury department, one of the survivors, who arrived here on a train with seven wounded and five dead, declared that, after killing the federal guard of 50 soldiers and two officers, the rebels set fire to the coaches and then shot down the passengers as they tried to escape.

Survivors said that the rebels called out of the passengers in the burning coaches to come out, then fired upon them as they emerged.

Most of the corpses were buried in a field near the scene of the attack while many of the wounded were taken to Labarca for treatment.

About a score of the survivors returned to Guadalajara.

Three American Families Unhurt.

Three American families were reported to have been on the train, but they escaped uninjured. The only American proceeding to Mexico City was H. Dock, a resident of Guadalajara.

An Englishman, who was a passenger, also escaped injury.

Heartbreaking scenes were described by persons who were on the train that took relief to the scene of the attack. One man, half crazed by his experience, laughed hysterically as he described how the rebels had killed all his family, including his mother and three children.

A survivor reported seeing a woman and two children stabbed to death.

On official commune, issued by Gen. Jose Alvarez, chief of staff to President Calles, said that most of the passengers killed, had been burned to death or hacked to pieces with knives after the rebels had locked the doors of the coaches and set them on fire. The statement said that the screams of the terrified and tortured passengers could still be heard from the burning coaches when federal troops arrived on the scene, some time after the attack had opened.

Government officials expressed belief that the rebel band may have been part of the revolutionary force that took up arms against the government as a result of religious differences.

The train was speeding over the national railway tracks, traveling between Mexico City and Guadalajara. When between Guadalajara and Irapuato, in the state of Jalisco, the rebels suddenly swooped down, firing rifles and shouting. They derailed the locomotive and set fire to the coaches.

A daughter of former President Obregon was said to have been a passenger on the train.

HATTIE

By Samuel Merwin

SYNOPSIS.

HATTIE JOHNSON, just 17, works in the mailing room of a printing and book-binding establishment. A former fellow employe,

LUCILLE OVERMAN, takes her to the Earthwide Picture studio, where she is seen by

ARMAND DE BRISSAC, famous director. He makes a screen test of Hattie and takes her to California with him to make a picture, "Bagdad." With her go

ALICE, Hattie's married sister and her baby, all dependent on Hattie. Hattie becomes engaged to

HENRY O'MALLEY, De Brissac's head camera man, although she is fascinated by the director. De Brissac wants her to go with him on his yacht for a week's cruise, when the picture is finished, but Hattie refuses and leaves the Earthwide studio to work for Plantagenet. She finds she cannot work without De Brissac, however. She meets Lucille who advises her to go back to De Brissac. Alice's husband

ARTHUR, has deserted her several years before but he comes back and adds himself to Hattie's responsibilities. Hattie and Henry go to a private showing of the finished picture which is a great succes. De Brissac is to form his own company and wants her to work with him.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT.

"And while they are sorry, as we all are, that Miss John went into this Plantagenet picture, they are persuaded that with the big momentum of 'Bagdad' to carry her popularity along with Mr. De Brissac to direct her next pictures, the Plantagenet business will do no great harm. In fact, we are already spreading the word quietly, through the de Brissac press department, that she was badly directed on the Plantagenet lot and wasn't happy there. But there must be no more mistakes. Her career must be handled very skilfully. It will be. Now, Mr. de Brissac is, as you know, a great man. He sees a long way ahead. His moves seem bold, but that is because he knows when and how to strike. There is something of the Napoleon in him. He is altogether too big a man to make an inadequate offer. He sees all sides of a situation. Now his offer—I have his memorandum here somewhere—"

Mr. Wurtzell was feeling in his pockets; not, to be sure without a perception of the value, at just such a moment, of suspence. Arthur was leaning forward, all shining eagerness, hanging on his words. Alice was trying to compose her nervous features. Gran'ma sat back, head erect, thinking of relief from the long strain and grimly believing it an answer to prayer. Hattie herself felt numb. Life, the pictures, something she couldn't understand the meaning of was dragging her on and on . . . . the breathless speed of this strange picture business . . . . she wished Henry were here. She could never speak her chaotic mind to the family. Never!

"—— oh yes, here it is. While Miss John is, of course, very young, and has done only the one picture, still she is a real success. The exhibitors want her. The public wants her. The public, you see, is tired of doll faces and simpering beauties. Mr. de Brissac was the first to see that clearly. And while it is a popular saying just now that the star system is dead, he knows that in the wider sense it can't die, and he proposes to move in a way to eliminate the possibility of argument."

Arthur hitched his chair forward and spread a flat hand on the table. His cigar was out.

"He suggests a new three-year contract at a very fair figure—one thousand dollars a week the first year . . ."

Hattie didn't hear the rest, just sat quitely with dazed look on her face.

They were talking. She heard Arthur's voice—with quite new ring of authority in it—

Arthur hitched his chair forward and spread a flat hand on the table.

"Well, everything considered, I should say that was a fair offer. Wouldn't you, Alice? Yes, while we shall naturally want a little time to think it over, still as a business man, I should say . . ."

"Wouldn't it be well, Arthur, to inquire into the salaries of some of these other young stars?" This from Gran'ma, with a quaver in her usually firm voice.

Hattie's mind was capering queerly. She nearly laughed. She could have told them, could she have spoken at all, that Eva Eames, two years out of high school, drew eight thousand a week.

"It is only fair to say that the offer" —Mr. Wurtzell—"will not be raised. So far as the De Brissac company is concerned it is final. Naturally we hope it will be accepted. Mr. de Brissac is working under terrific pressure. There is no time to lose. If you do accept he wished me to tell you that he has put aside an hour or so this evening for a talk with Miss John about her next role. He is for the present renting a studio near Culver City and has his office there, but will send his limousie for Miss John. In fact, he authorized me to say that unless word to the contrary reaches him the car will call here for her at eight o'clock.

Hattie rose and moved blindly toward the door.

"What is it?" asked Gran'ma.

"Where are you going?"

She couldn't answer. She heard Alice say to Arthur—"For Heaven's sake see what she's up to!" He caught her out in the hall while she was pulling on her hat.

"Where on earth are you going?" he whispered hoarsely.

"Oh—just for a walk," said she, outwardly calm.

"Well, you do beat all! Don't you get this, dear—a fat little fifty-two thousand a year! And more next year, and the next!"

He had her arm. She shook off his grip and opened the door.

"Perhaps it's better to leave the details to our older heads, though. You're excited, of course. Don't blame you. We'll arrange everything. Just go along and get some air ——"

She was running down the stairs.

She hurried along the street, waited for a trolley car and rode into Los Angeles. For a time she wandered about the crowded streets that were now become familiar. She found herself passing the Alexandria and turned in there. The spacious lobby had its usual swarm of tourists and commercial men, its rectangle of arm chairs and sofas where women and flappers and two or three men awaited others. It would be luncheon time, then. She moved, an insignificant whisp of a girl, in and out among the chatting groups, glancing at the self-important men at the telegraph and cigar counters and at the girls demurely awaiting their turn outside the row of telephone booths. She was all restless nerves. The sense of rushing through life was nearly intolerable now. The simplest thing might be to take the car down to Santa Monica, stroll out on the pier, and quietly drop into the Pacific. Or, instead, she might go into the big dining room here and lunch in state, alone. Come to think of it, she had all of the final week's salary in her shopping bag. Alice had forgotten, in the excitement, to ask for it. She decided to do this.

The head waiter was courteous and quick with suggestions. She had oysters and chicken soup and a big baked lobster and salad and potatoes and ice cream with cake and coffee. Then she bought a box of chocolates and took it into a picture house. A doll-faced girl, up there on the screen, appeared to be going through a struggle of the soul not unlike her own. Evil men pursued her. The hero rushed to her defence, and fought to defend her honor; fought heroically, with a knife, then with a stick, finally with his bare hands. At the end of the battle his face was battered and his clothing torn, but he was victorious. This victory evidently convinced the heart-wrung heroine that she loved him. She hadn't seemed aware of it before. Also in some inexplicable way it saver her honor. And she fanded out with him in a long kiss by a moonlit lake.

What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES R STEWART

OHIO CONGRESSMAN UNDECIDED ABOUT RUNNING FOR GOVERNOR

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, April 21. — Congressman Jim T. Berg is being offered his chance.

He and some other congressmen breakfasted with President Coolidge recently. In the course of the talk the president asked Jim if he means to run for governor of Ohio next year.

JAMES T. BEGG

It's a query the chief executive never would have put if he hadn't sensed the Republican gubernatorial electricity hovering right over Begg, waiting for him to h'ist his lightning rod.

Cal seldom misreads these meteorological signs.

BEGG modestly said he hadn't positively made up his mind whether to run for governor or not.

The fact is that the chance he's offered, while really a chance to make a big killing, is also a chance to lose —not only to miss the governorship, but to lose what he's got now.

Jim Begg is one of the biggest men in the house of representatives. He's assistant majority floor manager. There never were two buddies closer than Speaker Nick Longworth and Jim. Jim has more power than most senators.

NOW, in exchange for his position of so much honor and consequence in the house of representatives, what has the Ohio governorship to offer to Congressman James T. Begg of Sandusky?

Well, if he's elected governor, it offers him a plenty.

As governor of Ohio, he's a presidential possibility, right from the jump. He couldn't be nominated for president earlier than 1932, to be sure, but Begg's only 50 and can afford to wait that long, or even longer, is necessary.

Oh, yes, it's a prize well worth having—if you win.

THE drawback is:

The political mortality rate among Republican candidates for governor of Ohio is alarmingly high.

It's peculiar.

The state's presidential vote is Republican much oftener than it's Democratic. It's only very semi-occasionally that an Ohio Democrat horns into the senate. Of the present Buckeye representatives in congress only five out of 22 are Democrats.

But in the last 20 years the Republicans have succeeded only twice in electing the Ohio governor.

EVEN now Vic Donahey, a Democrat, is on his third term as governor of Ohio.

By the same token, he's a presidential possibility. The governor of Ohio always is. It's a pivotal state, with a lot of electorial votes. The candidate who can swing 'em is a strong candidate nationally.

If Jim Begg can break into Ohio as governor he'll automatically become a presidential possibility, by virtue of having done so, and all the more so, due to general recognition of the fact that it's a hard trick for a Republican to turn.

But can he? If Jim could answer that question he'd make up his mind, one way or the other, mighty quick.

BEGG'S an unusually able man and an exceedingly likable chap. He may work on up in the direction of the White House from where he is, but nobody's suggested him for it yet, and it looks as if it would be a pretty long row for him to hoe, at his present rate.

In a nomination for the Ohio governorship he might find a short cut, though sometimes short cuts prove the longest way home.

Flood Prevention

The first thing to be done in connection with the Mississippi floods is to give relief to the sufferers and to repair as quickly as possible the damage caused.

The next thing is to recognize that Mississippi floods are foreseeable and preventable. They do not arise suddenly from an unexpected cloudburst. They develop slowly with the spring rains that come to all the vast territory of the Mississippi valley. They are growing worse year by year as deforestation progresses in the upper Mississippi valley, including the territory drained by tributary streams.

Direct material loss, loss of life, injury to crops and the spread of disease are the attendant evils of flood.

Reforestation is as important in the control and prevention of floods as the building of dykes and levees. Both activities are needed, and it is work that should be done by the whole country, not left to the labors of the annually flooded states.

Disturbed Sleep

A scientific study of sleep conducted in the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research in Pittsburgh, with two college students as subjects, has established the fact that love and financial worry are disturbers of sound slumber. Which needed no proving. Any novelist or poet could have told that. Still as long as we're having everything in the universe checked up by science, recorded in definite figures and reduced to rule, it's just as well to have that little item attended to.

The student who was in love—a very serious case—being watched every moment throughout the night, was observed to toss and tumble about on the bed in a distracted way, instead of settling down to sound repose as he should.

The student who was hard up financially rested just about as badly, until in the midst of the experiment he made up his mind that he could get along on what little money he had. Immediately, then, he slept better.

Of more real importance to the world is the observation that in an average rest period of eight hours a night, the subjects actually had only about 14 minutes of really restful and refreshing sleep. The average is said not to be much longer.

That 14 minutes probably did the sleepers more good than all the rest of the night. If that is true, and the rest we need for the day's activities takes so little time when it is the right kind of rest, it is obviously important to learn the art of sleeping. Anyone who learned to control his rest might restore mind and body wonderfully by half an hour of real sleep at any time during the 24 hours.

Melting Them Up

John Bradac, Pauline Zivich, Michael Carney, James Wells, Tony Castiglione, Wincenty Kiviscien, Paul Sirej, Stella Sokolowsky, Frank Balazsi, Louis Weintraub, Kate Stroja, Stanley Zylinski, Minnie Paanaven, Lena Van Diest, Fritz Anderson, Evan Gerken.

They are from these races: Serb, Croat, Slovene, English, Scotch, Irish, Italian, Polish Czecho-Slovakian, Hungarian, Roumanian, Lithuanian, Russian, Turkish, Finnish, Dutch Swiss, Swedish and Belgian.

These, however, are mostly immigrants who came before the new restriction laws were operating. Soon the naturalization lists will begin to show a pronounced change, with fewer names that Americans cannot spell or pronounce, and more names reminiscent of the old stock of northern and western Europe from which the nation was formed originally.

Scary Elephants

Three tame elephants showing in Newark, N. J., known as models of gentle behavior, ran amuck suddenly the other day, trampling a woman to death, knocking others down and terrifying a street crowd.

It is explained that the beasts took fright at an alley cat. That may be. One spectator, however, observed that the cat was chasing a mouse, thereby probably getting down to the real cause. The elephants too may have seen that mouse. And elephants are notoriously afraid of mice.

It is a curious thing that the largest of animals should have such fear of the smallest. Still, we can't say that man himself is much more rational than that. There is no logic in fear, and many of the things we fear most are little things.

Hospitality to Birds

The wild geese isn't really wild, says a naturalist who has been feeding a flock of such birds through the winter. He finds that he can go right up and throw corn to them, and even hit the supposedly scary creatures with corn cobs, and they will not take alarm and fly away.

Many an American bird-lover has discovered the same fact regarding many another bird or animal. The wild things become tame enough when you feed them. In fact, that is how all our tame birds and animals have been domesticated. Sharing food brings even man and brute creation together and makes them friends.

CUTTING OUT THE FREE AD

Some business managers of some publications are rather fussy in the matter of their advertising policies. They stand guard over the editorial departments, ever vigilantly on the outlook to see that nothing which first should have passed through the counting room finds it way into the news pages. In other words, they decline to give to anybody or anything a free reading notice in which a personal boost or an advertisement might be concealed. On the whole, it is a sane policy, but there are perhaps times when it is slightly overdone.

For instance, there was the proprietor of a certain paper, a person especially watchful in this particular regard. Although his earlier education had not been on the literary side—if at all—he constituted himself a censor of all that went over the city desk.

Every night he sat on duty to revise proofs of matter intended for use in the next morning's editions. One evening there was handed to him the account, done by his musical critic, of a concert, given by Mischa Elman, the famous violinist. In the notice the reviewer had stated that Mr. Elman has played upon a genuine Stradivarius of exquisite tone.

Straightway he ran a blue pencil through the offending lines Then he sent for the writer of the article.

"See," he said, "what I just had to cut out of your stuff. In the future don't let anybody slip anything like this over on you. If Mr. Stradivarius wants to advertise his make of fiddles in this paper our advertising columns are open to him at the customary rate of $2 a line."

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 21.—No club has furnished so many gay quips to the world as the Lambs. On its membership list are the most adroit of comedians who when "at liberty" spend leisure hours in this theatrical sanctuary.

It was here amid kindred spirits that Irvin Cobb won first fame as a story teller. It is where Wilton Lackaye became celebrated for his stinging epigrams. Libbrettists with hidden pads have gleaned material for a thousand and more brilliant lines.

There is a story of one playwright who quit the Lambs in a pique and was unable to write another successful comedy until he rejoined the fold. Skits from the yearly Lambs' Gambol have bolstered up a score of sagging revues.

The spirit of the Lambs is frolicsome. They are always at play and this jovial spirit has been upset only twice in its existence by the thump of flying fists. The club is a counterpart of a London theatrical club, the outgrowth of a nightly suggestion.

Some one would say "Let's all go over to the Lambs"—the kindly and hospitable Charles and Mary Lamb. Hence the name. The jests are chiefly at the expense of the members. And rarely offend. It is about the only theatrical club that does not go out of the theater or allied arts for members.

The other night a popular Hebrew actor who came out of the Ghetto tenements to stardom was playing pinochle with friends. A page boy tiptoed up, touched him on the shoulder and said "Your father is downstairs." A fellow player replied: "Shave him and send him up."

A celebrated mot concerns a distinguished actor who was with Lincoln on the night he was assassinated. He was in a Sunday night sketch for the Lambs' membership and went up in his lines to flounder about dismally. As the curtain descended a gloomy voice shouted: "And they shot Lincoln." The Lambs are planning a new club house further up town.

Then there was a versatile musician entertaining the Lambs one night who after playing a variety of instruments including a comb, handsaw and gourd wound up playing a tune on a bicycle pump. "If that guy had a goitre," bleated a Lamb, "he would play it as a Scotch bag-pipe."

Debt has "made" innumerable people who are intrinsically honest by keeping their noses to the grindstone. A magazine editor tells of a man who plunged into debt to buy a fine toilet set for his wife. After a year of scrimping he had it paid for and decided such a fine array of toilet articles should have a suitable dressing table. He went back on the treadmill to provide. That was the beginning. Today he owns a magnificent home and all the accessories. All inspired by the original idea.

A banker once told me debt was often necessary to success. But added: "Debt is more dangerous than drink unless properly handled."

The wife of a certain novelist returned from a two-months trip to Europe to find two strange dresses in her wardrobe. A hard thing to laugh off, my masters. She said nothing but suffered a nervous breakdown. Six weeks later a maid informed her the dresses had been sent there by a sister of the novelist's wife to be given to any one she might select. The maid had neglected to mention the incident.

Three night club performers are now jerking soda in Times Square drug stores and about sixteen cabaret chorus girls are waitresses in a chain of quick restaurants. "At least," said one, "we are still on Broadway."

The old lamp post idea prevails.

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The New Prohibition Bureau.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21.—The announcement that 2,500 positions in the Prohibition Bureau are to be placed under civil service has created a stir throughout the country. Twenty-five thousand persons have already made application and it is expected by the Civil Service Commission that there will be 75,000 scrambling for these positions. Requests for information regarding the examinations to be held and for application blanks have come from all sections of the country, in person, by mail, and even by telegraph.

The new Prohibition Bureau which became operative April 1, will have a personnel of 4,500. A thousand of this number are clerks and stenographers who are already under civil service. Under the law all enforcement personnel must be under civil service within six months from the date on which the new bureau became operative. Included under this ruling are all employes with the exception of the commissioner. The assistant commissioner, deputy commissioners, general counsel, federal administrators, and other administrative officers must qualify even as must the lowliest agent.

While it is true that there are to be 2,500 positions it is also true that many of the employes already in the service will undoubtedly qualify for the positions they are already holding. Their experience will also be in their favor. Therefore, probably there will not be as many actual vacancies as would appear at first glance.

Until regular civil service examinations have been held and certifications made from the lists of eligibles, the federal administrators are to be permitted to recommend to the Secretary of the Treasury individual members of their staffs whom they think should be retained under temporary appointment. It is the aim of the commission to build up an eligible list of from 5,000 to 10,000 persons from which a high grade of prohibition agents and other employes may be taken into federal service.

Undoubtedly there will be many changes in the personnel under the new regime. In fact, it is said, that already many prohibition agents and other employes have been dropped from the rolls. Some of these were dropped because it was plain that they would not be able to qualify under the strict examinations to be required.

Employment Turn-Over High.

It has been pointed out that the Civil Service Commission has a considerable job on its hands in undertaking the task of being ready at all times to fill vacancies occurring in the prohibition bureau. It is said that the turn-over in prohibition enforcement work is greater than in any other branch of the government, the annual rate being from 40 to 50 per cent.

Last year there were over 1,800 enforcement employes dropped out of the federal service. Many were dropped for incompetency, while others resigned under fire, either having been declared unfit for the work or charged with irregularities. The temptations are many in such work and a man must indeed be strong to resist the "easy money" to frequently offered to him.

Another reason given for the large turn-over in this work is that many seeking adventure obtain positions in this outfit only to find that they are not temperamentally or physically fitted to do the work required. This is particularly true of the men employed on the investigative end. It requires a special sort of temperament to be able to take calmly the fact that one's life is in frequent danger, and also to undergo the hardships often required.

There are, of course, men of the soldier-of-fortune type who glory in the work and who go into it for the thrill of the thing. They enjoy matching their wits against those who are making organized efforts to break the national prohibition law. The ordinary bootlegger is beneath their notice — they are interested in the big rum-running rings of international scope. Some of these can tell tales that would make Diamond Dick turn green with envy.

In order to be sure that grafters and crooks do not find their way upon the rolls of the new bureau the government is taking extraordinary measures. After an applicent has taken the civil service examination and obtained an eligible rating he will be finger-printed and measured. The "Rogues Galleries" of the various police departments will then be scanned and criminal court records carefully gone over to see that he has no criminal record.

Requirements Are Many.

The requirements for eligibility for employment in the bureau are to be high in ways other than good character also. An applicant for a position as an agent or investigator must possess at least to a fair degree Elinor Glyn's famous "it." He must be at home in the ballroom or at ease in the business office. It is not enough that he may have had detective training. It is deemed more desirable in fact that he not be the square-toed type of "bull" who screams his vocation by merely entering a room. But he must not be lacking in the investigative quality.

Both written and oral examinations are to be given in some cases, while either one or the other will be all that is necessary in some positions. The Civil Service Commission says that these examinations will be practical and each kind specially designed to test the qualifications and fitness of the applicants to perform the particular kind of work in which he is interested.

The examinations for investigators below senior grade, those for agents of all grades, and those for warehouse watchmen will be written mental tests. These will be given in approximately 600 cities throughout the country. The oral examinations will be given by investigators of the Civil Service Commission who will be sent to various parts of the country to interview applicants. These oral tests, together with the painstaking character investigations to be made, are said to make the testing of applicants for positions in the Prohibition Bureau one of the largest single tasks ever undertaken by the Civil Service Commission.

Written mental tests in examination rooms are not to be given to those above the grade of prohibition investigators. These include chiefs of field divisions down to senior prohibition investigators. All of the examinations, however, will include ratings on training and experience, a searching oral test, and the rigid character investigations referred to above.

It seems amazing in view of the many protests against prohibition that there should be such a rush on the part of citizens in all parts of the country to obtain an opportunity to aid in enforcing the law. At any rate, the Civil Service Commission has certainly its task cut out of it in examining these thousands of applicants.

KEN MAYNARD AT AMERICAN

Another precedent was broken during the filming of "The Unknown Cavalier," the Ken Maynard starring feature, which comes to the American theatre today.

In the first place, it should be realized that the heaven of the "extra person" is a "location" trip—i, e., a trip with a motion picture company to some distant point, at which lodging and meals are provided by the company, and there's a work-check every day.

Albert Rogell, who directed Maynard in this feature, however, had a lot of trouble recruiting the necessary number of cowboys for the thrilling outdoor scenes in this picture. His brother, Sid, who is also his assistant, interviewed numbers of them, but they usually ended the interview by remembering a job they had at some other studio during the period of the proposed location.

What's the answer? It leaked out somehow that the "location" to be used was the heart of Death Valley, which even in winter is one of the hottest places in the world. And in July and August, when this picture was made—well, use your own imagination! However, enough brave spirits were collected and the trip was made, as the picture shows. The company underwent considerable suffering, and at one time for a day were in danger of their lives. But all's well that ends well—and that trip ended in a good picture!

"The Unknown Cavalier" is a Charles R. Rogers production, supervised by Harry J. Brown. It shows the West when the Vigilantes and Romance ruled the plains.

Women of Nicaragua Accept Bobbed Hair But Reject Lip Stick

MANAGUA, Nic.—The women of Nicaragua have accepted bobbed hair from civilization but refused its lipstick.

The visitor to Managua is impressed by the sweet, natural expression of the girls and women encountered in the streets. Their hair is usually bobbed, and their attire, if they belong to the better class of society, is just as neat and up to date as that of their sisters in New York or Mexico City. But they lack the "sporty" appearance so noticable of the women met on the Paseo de la Reforma or on Fifth avenue.

Closer inspection, discreetly conducted, reveals the fact that the lips of Nicaraguan women are unpainted, except in the rarest instances. Therefore they retain much of their sweetness and simplicity which, in the United States, can be found only on the mouths of babies too young to hold a lipstick in their tiny fingers.

Things to Know Before Baby Comes

THE expectant mother's comfort and well being is very important. And one of the most important things for her to do is to use Mother's Friend to keep the skin and muscles soft and pliable—thus aiding the tissues and muscles to relax and adjust themselves to the changes during motherhood. Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been used by expectant mothers for over three generations. No woman awaiting the joy of motherhood should allow the days to pass without using Mother's Friend.

Mrs. Laura Hendrix, Gracemont, Okla., writes: "I used Mother's Friend with all my babies and I think it is the grandest help that has ever been discovered for expectant mothers. I can't say too much for it."

Mother's Friend is safe for you to use because it contains no harmful drugs and is applied externally.

Mother! WELLSVILLE CONTRACT SUIT MAY BE POSTPONED

CITY OPPOSES $11,000 CLAIM ON RESERVOIR

Mayor W. L. Fogo's Illness Cited as Delay Reason.

SET FOR TUESDAY

Allison and Harris Seek Payment for Water System.

A request for a postponement of the hearing of the Allison & Harris Construction company's suit against the city of Wellsville may be filed in common pleas court at Lisbon as a result of the disability of Mayor W. L. Fogo, it was indicated here today.

The case was scheduled for a hearing on next Tuesday morning, but as the city's executive will be unable to appear in court at that time as a result of injuries sustained several days ago when he slipped and fell against an open sewer, fracturing a rib, the city may ask for a later date.

The East Liverpool contracting company is seeking the payment of a claim of slightly more than $11,000, alleged to be due for work on the Little Yellow Creek reservoir system.

The city, it is said, is holding up payment of the amount, claiming liquidated damages. It is charged the company failed to finish the job in contract time.

COLD WEATHER CHECKS RELIEF IN FLOOD ZONE

Mississippi Valley Homeless Number 50,000.

ILLNESS SPREADS

Other Levee Breaks Feared; One Town Inundated.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 21. — The main levee at Scott, Miss., crumbled before the rushing torrents of the Mississippi river early today, according to reports received here.

Waters from this break will flood Scott, Leland, Boliver and adjacent towns. Temporary levee being built by the American Legion, state convicts and three hundred volunteers was still holding and may prevent much damage, it was believed.

The surging current was rushing through the break at Scott at an estimated speed of 30 miles an hour, the report said.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 21.—A cold snap descended on the Mississippi flood district today, in the wake of freakish winds and torrential rains which has made relief work among the 50,000 homeless extremely difficult.

More moderate temperatures are expected in 24 hours and this will greatly alleviate the situation among the refugees who have been huddled in tents and box cars since the rampaging Mississippi and its tributaries crashed through cement barriers and engulfed the countryside.

Many of the flood sufferers are ill with various kinds of sickness. Many have severe colds from rain and exposure while a number of children in the Arkansas refuge camps are reported to be suffering from measles, mumps and the whooping cough.

Flood Waters Spread.

Flood waters today were rapidly spreading out over the entire St. Francis basin, and hopes of replacing the main Mississippi levee near New Madrid, Mo., have been abandoned. The levee at that point has been swept away for a distance of ten miles.

Clarendon, Ark., where the crumbling White river levee sent the turbulent waters flowing into the town at a speed of 40 miles an hour, was under 15 feet of water today. Clarendon's streets were canals and scores of houses were reported to have been washed away. The town's 3,000 population fled to the hills.

The damage done thus far by the Mississippi river flood, the worst in its history, is incalculable. A territory estimated at more than 100 miles square in southern Missouri, southern Illinois, eastern Arkansas, western Kentucky, western Tennessee and western Mississippi is inundated.

A number variously estimated between 50,000 and 75,000 were forced to flee their homes, but whether any of these lost their lives probably will not be known until the waters return to their beds.

Mississippi Still Rising.

The Mississippi was still rising at Memphis and will reach its probable crest of 46 feet by Saturday. After this, the waters will gradually decline unless there is more rain in the Mississippi valley.

It will be at least three more weeks before the refugees can return to their water-logged houses. Many will return and find that their homes have been swept away.

More levee breaks were threatened today.

Attention of government engineers was turned to Leland, Miss., where the main levee of the Mississippi was gradually crumbling away, threatening to flood a half dozen towns and thousands of acres of farmlands.

Water was topping the levee in Bolivar county, near Scott, Miss., at daybreak, and the town's population of several thousand were making hurried preparation to evacuate in fear of a break.

ELYRIA BANK CLERK MISSING

Disappears After Wife Receives Mysterious Phone Call.

ELYRIA, O., April 21.—Frederick L. Brown, 35, abstractor for the Guarantee Title and Trust company, and prominent member of the Elyria Choral society, today had suddenly disappeared from his home here.

According to his wife's story to authorities, Brown started for choir practice, scheduled for 7 p. m. Wednesday. When he failed to return home at the usual time, Mrs. Brown became alarmed and notified the police. It then developed that the missing man had not attended the choir practice, and that all of his belongings had disappeared from the Guarantee Title and Trust company office.

Mrs. Brown received a mysterious phone call just prior to her husband's disappearance. The party who called, told Mrs. Brown that her husband "had better watch his step." Asked who was speaking, the voice replied: "Never mind" and the conversation was cut off.

Always Merry and Bright

When You Get That "Kruschen" Feeling

Grandpa is a good humored old scout and—

Nothing in this world is more infectious than good humour.

A cheerful disposition is a more powerful factor than most people imagine.

The cheerful one is always welcome radiating optimistic and compelling others to look on the bright side of things.

Cheerfulness, high spirits, a happy outlook, and a hearty appetite are the daily reward of those who take 2 tablets of Kruschen Salts in their breakfast cup of tea or coffee every morning.

And Why?

The reason is that Kruschen Salts remove all impurities from the system and stimulate the healthy flow of the natural juices of the body. Kruschen Salts contain an adequate amount of Sodium and Magnesium, the cathartics or body scavengers; and they possess a rich proportion of Potassium, the vital tonic food of the tissues. You can get this combination in no other way. The six ingredients of Kruschen Salts keep you feeling fit and fine. They are necessary for healthy life. Your body must of necessity obtain these ingredients from somewhere, or you could not live. Normally your system should extract these vital salts from your food, but when, owing to impaired digestion, errors of diet, overwork, anxiety, worry, sedentary occupation, and many other causes, your system does not extract from your food the correct proportion of these essential life-giving salts, then what follows? Depression or headaches, constipation or disordered liver, inactive kidneys, rheumatism, gout or sciatica, lumbago or eczema—many of which arise from excess of Uric Acid, which is the cause of more troubles than many people suspect.

Kruschen Salts should be your safeguard.

Tasteless in Tea or Coffee

Drop 2 tablets in your breakfast cup every morning — 1 tablet for children. It's the little daily dose that does it.

U. S. Marines Aid In Forcing Gates Of Soviet Grounds

PEKING, April 21.—A detachment of 25 international troops, composed of five Americans, five British, five Japanese, five Italian and five French, under command of Col. Little, of the United States marine corps, forced the gate of the Soviet embassy compound at noon today taking up a position to defend the legation quarter.

The defenders occupy part of the wall fronting the United States legation. The position occupies itself only a small portion of the Soviet embassy compound. The compound itself has been occupied by Chinese police ever since the raid there two weeks ago.

American marines scaled the wall, breaking open the gate with sledge hammers.

For the last four years one man has been working at the hilltop station, being on daylight turn one week and night turn the folowing week. With the addition of two new men to the department, the force at Northside was increased.

The fire department now numbers 13 men, including Fire Chief Bryan and Assistant Chief Elmer McMillan. Six men are on duty constantly, four at the Central station and one each at the East End and Northside stations.

Daylight men work from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. while men on the night turn are on duty from 6 p. m. to 8 a. m.

Another attack by both rebels and bandits was made at Chichigalpa. But the attackers fled when federals and marines fired a few shots. There were few bandit casualties.

POWERS DEFER ANSWER TO CHEN

WASHINGTON, April 21. — Final agreement among the powers on the note to the Chinese Nationalists on the Nanking incident has been delayed, and there is yet no unanimity on the question, it was said at the state department today.

Several of the powers are understood to be delaying action because of the apparent split in the Nationalists' party.

STATE TO TURN GUNS AGAINST HEWITT ALIBI

Sixteen Rebuttal Witnesses Called in Murder Trial.

DOUBLE KILLING

Mother Testifies Boy Was at Home on Night of Crime.

JEFFERSON, O., April 21.—Indications that the trial of Floyd Hewitt, 16-year-old Conneaut youth, who is charged with the murder of Mrs. Fred Brown, and her son, Fred Jr., 5, at North Conneaut, last February 14, will run into the fourth week, were seen here today with announcement that the state has subpoenaed 16 rebuttal witnesses, in an attempt to destroy the "wall of alibis" presented by the defense.

The first of these witnesses will take the stand this afternoon. Outstanding among the group is Dr. Arthur G. Hyde, superintendent of the Massillon state hospital, who will be used as an "expert rebuttal witness," according to Prosecutor C. B. Cook.

Mrs. Olive Hewitt, mother of Floyd, occupied the witness stand during most of the morning session of court, and testified that her son had not been out of the house where they lived, at any time during the night of the murder. Under cross-examination however, she admitted that on the morning following the double crime, when at the home of L. N. Cutler, a neighbor, she "might have stated," at that time, that Floyd was out "for a short time."

Donahey Veto Looms

the state's general revenue fund as part of the legislative program designed to wipe out the deficit in the state treasury.

Signs Clapp Bill.

Governor Donahey today signed the Clapp bill, providing for observance in the public schools of Constitution Day, September 17.

The house finance committee today had under discussion, in executive session, the request of Attorney General E. C. Turner, James W. Huffman, member of the state utilities commission, and others, that the committee restore an appropriation of $50,000 to defray expenses in connection with the state-wide investigation the utilities commission is conducting relative to the telephone rate situation.

The attorney general, late Wednesday, sent a communication to Representative R. D. Williamson, Xenia, chairman of the house finance committee, urging restoration of the $50,000 appropriation, declaring "the statehouse is lousy with lobbyists who seem to be tolerated," and charging that "a determined effort to kill" the telephone rate appropriation had been made.

Pass River Road Resolution

By a vote of 33 to0, the senate adopted a joint resolution by Representative Roberts, Belmont county, memorializing congress to grant additional federal aid for the purpose of completing improvement of the Ohio River road in Belmont and Jefferson counties.

Other measures passed by the sen ate today include: By Herbert, permitting the state clemency board to parole prisoners at the expiration of the statutory minimum sentence, and nullifying the minimum sentence now authorized for trial judges; By Shafer, prohibiting operation of steam boilers by persons employed by others having licenses; By Carpenter, reducing the number of peremptory challenges of the defense from 16 to 12 and raising the state's challenges from 4 to 6 in first degree murder cases; by Penny, penalizing fradulent advertising by optometrists.

The Herbert and Shafer bills go to the senate and the Carpenter and Penny bills go to the governor.

Vetoes Abele Bill.

The house today received Governor Donahey's message announcing his veto of the Abele bill which sought to permit insurance of public funds, or securities, in custody of county treasurers, against theft.

On motion of Representative Martin Dodd, Toledo, Republican floor leader, the house deferred action on the governor's message.

An unsuccessful effort was made today in the house by Representative W. T. Roberts, Belmont county, to place on its passage the Rebman bill, known as the "yellow dog," or "open shop," measure.

The bill sought to declare void, and "against public policy," provisions in contracts of employment whereby either party undertakes not to join, become, or remain a member of a labor union, or of any organization of employers, or undertakes in such event to withdraw from the contract of employment.

By a vote of 13 to 9, the house finance committee this afternoon restored to the Carpenter sundry claims appropriation bill the $50,000, which it cut out last week, to defray expenses to be incurred in connection with the statewide investigation being conducted by the state utilities commission relative to telephone rates.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 21.—Strength in the railroad stocks, the rubber and tire stocks and a few of the motor and specialty shares were the outstanding features of the market at the beginning of trading today. Selling pressure increased as the session advanced, and the market as a whole developed an irregular trend.

Marking down on the Bank of England rate from 5 to 4 1-2 per cent, led to conjecture as to the prospect of similar action by the directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, at their meeting here today. Announcement of the action of the directors, if any, will not be made until after the close of the market.

Business and industrial reports were generally favorable; though the decline in forward steel orders and the forecasted decrease in 1927 business for the automobile manufacturers was hardly to the liking of the bulls in these stocks. Call money was unchanged at 4 per cent.

The rise of Rock Island to $100 a share, reaching this goal for the first time in ten years of operation of the reorganized road, was an incident of the railroad group. The stock was placed on a $5 annual dividend basis in February, but it is expected that the rate will be increased in a comparatively short time. Katy, Frisco common, Western Maryland and Missouri Pacific were strong.

Kelly-Springfield continued to lead the low-priced tire stocks, reaching 28¼ in its remarkable rise from a low of 9½ earlier in the year. Higher prices for tires before May first is the slogan of the tire manufacturers. Utility stocks were strong, under the lead of Brooklyn Union Gas.

After scoring a new high record above 189, General Motors was freely sold. U. S. Steel also dropped back a point in the second hour, and heaviness extended to other well-known industrial shares. Cotton and grain were firm.

The steel company, which alleged the furnace was defective, was awarded $1,100 damages asked in a counter petition, while judgment for the full amount, from which will be deducted the steel company's award, was given the plaintiff. The Hagan company's balance in the judgment is $631.58.

Order Ford Mistrial

also exonerated Aaron Sapiro, plaintiff in the million-dollar case.

In granting the motion for a mistrial, Judge Raymond heatedly condemned a Detroit newspaper for publishing an interview with Mrs. Hoffman relative to the charges against her. The interview, he said, was an invasion of the court's functions.

After referring to the fact that he had examined Mrs. Hoffman, the court said:

"The whole matter was turned over to the department of justice for a fair and impartial investigation. That investigation is not complete and the court does not expect a report until later in the day."

Sapiro Exonerated.

The court said he was extremely loath to grant a mistrial because of the five weeks spent in taking testimony. He mentioned having denied two previous motions for a mistrial, one by each side.

"In all fairness of the juror in question," the court added, "it must be stated that up until this time, the investigation did not disclose any facts that warrant the filing of charges against her on a matter that would be very serious if true.

"There may have been indiscretion or improper conduct on her part but the court has very grave doubts if this juror has participated in any bribery or any attempt at bribery.

"I have no evidence whatever that Mr. Sapiro, the plaintiff in this case, has indulged in any improper conduct in reference to the jury."

The court added although that it was possible that the government investigation might disclose new evidence of the alleged plot.

The court condemned, however, both Ford and Sapiro for giving out interviews last night on the bribery charges. He said the affidavits had not been filed in court until 9:30 this morning, although stories had appeared in this morning's newspapers.

The judge then discharged the jury but ordered all subjoenas in force for a new trial.

"This entire matter bears the mark of a perfect frame-up," said Attorney Gallagher, counsel for Sapiro.

Result, a badly wrecked automobile and two bruised passengers. Our sympathies are with the driver. DINNER STORIES.

Something Wrong at Other End.

The recruits were having a musketry course, and the sergeant-instructor at the firing point was amazed to find that one man had failed to hit even the target after five shots. "Good Lord, Brown," he bellowed, "what the devil is happening to your shots?"

"I dunno, sergeant," replied the man nervously; "all I can tell you is that they are leaving this end all right."

He Wants Light.

Father: "What do you mean, young man, by turning out the hall light when you bid my daughter good night?"

Lover: "Why, you see—"

"That's enough! Never darken my door again!"

His Punishment.

The treatment of prisoners in one South Australian jail is remarkably humane. A regular visitor inquired recently regarding an old offender.

"What's wrong with Bill?" He seems to have a grouch."

"No wonder," said one of his mates, "He threatened the warden with a shovel today and now they won't let him go to choir practice."

DYKE-KEYS CO. ONE UNIT OF BIG MERGER

OFFICERS NAMED

Dr. C. R. Larkins Elected President of Corporation.

Consolidation of The Dyke-Keys company of East Liverpool and Steubenville and the Dyke Motor Supply company, Pittsburgh, one of the largest distributors of automobile supplies in the country, was announced this week.

The new company, which will continue as the Dyke-Keys Motor Supply company, now has four stores—the East Liverpool business located at 115 West Fifth street; the Steubenville store at 419 Washington street and the two Pittsburgh stores, 800 Webster avenue and 2927 Baum boulevard.

Officers of the reorganized company are: Dr. C. R. Larkins, East Liverpool, president; A. E. Dyke, Pittsburgh, vice-president; H. B. Keys, this city, secretary-treasurer and general manager, and C. W. Keys, assistant secretary.

The local company took over the McHugh-Keys store at Steubenville, February 2, when the name was changed to The Dyke-Keys company. During the remainder of the year the two Pittsburgh stores will continue to operate under the old name but after the first of 1928 will be known as The Dyke-Keys company.

A manufacturers' display of automobile and garage equipment, tires, tubes and other accessories for the use of the automobile owner will take place at the Steubenville store next week, opening April 25 and closing April 30. Displays in Manley garage equipment, the Black & Decker products, United States air compressors, Walker jacks, American hammered rings and Diamond tires and tubes, of which the company is the distributor in this section, will be featured.

The Steubenville store occupying two floors and basement of a building 130 feet in depth is said to be one of the most up-to-date establishments of its kind in eastern Ohio. The East Liverpool store, having a stock slightly smaller than the Steubenville establishment, has one floor and a basement in the Fifth street location with an additional ware room in West Sixth street.

The company, which conducts a wholesale business only claims to be the best equipped in eastern Ohio, guaranteeing a 48-hour service. Complete lines of automobile supplies, garage equipment, genuine replacement parts, tires and tubes are handled. It supplies the retail trade in eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and the upper section of West Virginia, six salesmen being on the road.

The East Liverpool store was opened in April, 1923, when the Keys Motor Supply company was organized to handle both the wholesale and retail trade. Keys was associated with The Dyke Motor Supply company in Pittsburgh for seven and one-half years before coming to East Liverpool.

Complete announcement of the consolidation will appear in the Saturday edition of The Review-Tribune.

BETHANY COLLEGE HAS BIG LIBRARY

Bethany college now boasts a library of 18,000 books, about 350 having been added this year.

One of the most recent books that has been added is "The Life of Joseph Rucker Lamar." Justice Lamar is one of Bethany's most renowned graduates. He was justice of the supreme court for several years.

Joseph Lamar entered Bethany college in 1875. He was a pitcher for the college baseball team, a prompter and an occasional actor in the college theatricals an enthusiastic member of his Greek letter fraternity, and one who could be counted on for most social functions. He graduated in 1877 and in 1879 married Clarinda Pendleton, the daughter of Dr. William Pendleton, the president of Bethany college. For one year he was instructor of Latin at the college.

The volume is an interesting biography, and much is written in the book about the college life at Bethany with many discriptions of the surrounding country.

For the German department 250 classics have been bought. It was through the efforts of Dr. R. E. Saleski's sister who is a student at Leipzig that these were procured at such a good price. Dr. Saleski is professor of German at Bethany college.

No Need to be Embarrassed by Catarrh

There is such humiliation in the offensive breath, catarrhal deafness, constant raising of mucus and other annoyances of catarrh, that no one willingly puts up with it any more.

Catarrh quickly disappears when you remove the cause—an inflamed condition of the mucous membranes of nose, throat and head. Reduce this inflammation and a healthy condition is restored.

To do this use Hall's Catarrh Medicine, effective for over 40 years. Ask your druggist. Price 85c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

NUN, 89, HEADS OHIO CONVENT

Illness Does Not Stop Work of Mother Superior.

COLUMBUS, O., April 21—An 89-year-old nun is carrying out the duties of superior of the Convent of the Good Shepherd here from her sick bed. She is Mother Mary St. Agnes, and confined to her bed for the last two years.

The mother superior has been ill for the last five years—but illness has not stopped her from pushing forward in the work of trying to put women and girls on the right path—has not weakened her will and courage to carry on until the end.

From a bed in a small undecorated room, save for flowers and bare-walled but for a crucifix, she signs checks, looks after correspondence and all executive work brought before her as she did 10 years ago when she first took the desk as head of the convent.

She tells rather shyly of how she made the swaddling clothes for a baby boy who later became president of the United States and chief justice of the United States—William Howard Taft.

When the convent was established more than 10 years ago Mother Mary St. Agnes, with five sisters, did needlework in order to keep up the expenses of the convent. It was thus that she became an expert needlewoman and made clothes for the president-to-be.

Mother Mary St. Agnes is one of the nationally recognized figures in the Catholic sisterhoods of the United States. In her early years she came to the United States from Germany and settled with her parents at Louisville, Ky. She entered a convent in 1856.

She helped found the convent of Good Shepherd at Louisville and at Cincinnati.

SENATE DEFEATS PAY SLASH BILL

A move to reduce the pay of members of the legislature found short shrift in the senate yesterday, that body defeating an amendment offered by Senator Hiner to a proposed amendment to the constitution.

Declaring that in public office it had become the habit for everybody to "have his hand out," Senator Hiner proposed that while the amendment proposing return to consecutive 60-day legislative sessions was being put to the people, the law be revised to pay legislators their $500 salary only for the year during which the biennial session was held with an added provision of $8 a day for extra sessions. The Hiner proposal was defeated and the bill for submitting the 60-day proposal to popular vote, together with its companion resolution, were advanced to final reading. Another constitutional amendment resolution affecting election of judges in judicial circuits, likewise went along to its final reading in the senate.

GILDA 'CABARET' GRAY IS GREAT

Dancer's Second Picture Decided Hit at Ceramic.

It's here at last—the real "inside story" of Broadway night life!

Gilda Gray's new Paramount picture, "Cabaret," which arrived at the Ceramic theatre yesterday is IT! "Cabaret" towers above everything of the sort which has preceded it. If authenticity is sought—if you want to know exactly what the clubs look like, who the entertainers are, what dances are being danced or what clothes are being worn,—"Cabaret" should be seen. And if there is one woman in America who knows night clubs, Gilda Gray is she. Her life story is too well known to need recounting here, but it should be noted that Gilda first won aplause as a cabaret entertainer. Because of this, "Cabaret" is real!

Gloria Trask found fame awaiting her in the Club Costigan and she also found love. Detective Tom Westcott was more than ordinarily interested in her and so was Sam Roberts. While the latter was more affluential Gloria disliked him because of the grip he exerted on her brother, Andy. One night she determined to find out exactly what kind of an axe he held over the boy's head. But—Andy entered and threw Roberts to the floor. He fired a gun, Andy did the same and the gang leader was dead! The shots weren't heard because of a jazz band in the next room. Gloria danced her wounded brother through the crowded dance floor and out—but why go further?

"Cabaret" was written by a master melodramatist, Owen Davis. Chester Conklin is co-featured with Tom Moore. Robert G. Vignola directed.

5,000 miles in 81 hours, 48 minutes, 22 seconds total elapsed time. An average speed of 61.12 miles per hour. No automobile or other vehicle in America has travelled so far so fast. No stock closed car has ever approached this record.

Here is what these records mean to you:

(1) It is possible to purchase a truly great automobile at a moderate price. These records prove that The Commander has justly been called "the greatest post-war achievement of automotive engineering."

(2) The Commander, because of the super-abundant power of its Big Six engine, will perform eagerly, easily, smoothly, with no labor or effort, any and all tasks placed upon it.

(3) Studebaker has produced in these new models, cars which will excel even the staunch, dependable Studebakers of the past, in low repair and maintenance costs.

Any motor expert will tell you that 5,000 miles at more than a mile a minute is equivalent in strain and stress to 25,000 miles of ordinary driving. Yet in this terrible test the only replacements or repairs were three grease-cups, one spark-plug and one punctured tire. Only one pint of water was used.

NOW! Drive a Commander yourself. Know this great car through your own hands and feet. These shattered records merely dramatize the thrilling performance which Studebaker Commander owners everywhere are enjoying. They explain why the Studebaker Big Six is far out-selling the combined totals of all other cars in the world of equal or greater rated horsepower. The exact duplicate of this record-shattering car is waiting for you at Studebaker showrooms.

Commander Models and their One-Profit Prices: Sedan, $1585; Victoria, $1575; (with broadcloth upholstery, $1645); Coupe, $1545; (with rumble seat, $1645). Other Studebaker and Erskine models range in price from $945 to $2245. All prices f. o. b. factory

Recreation Baseball League To Open Season Week Of May 9

12 TEAMS SET FOR CAMPAIGN; FEES ARE FILED

Each Club Permitted to Carry 15 Players on Roster.

The Review-Tribune Recreation or "soft ball" league will lift the lid on its opening season during the week of May 9, with 12 clubs in the race for the inaugural bunting.

Preliminary arrangements for the campaign were completed at a meeting of the circuit last night when league managers, and officials, believing that a larger organization would be unwieldy at the start-off, decided to reduce the organization to a one-league status, with 12 clubs competing.

Entry fees were filed by representatives of the following clubs: Roselawns, Printers, Johannes Drugs, Bulger Drugs, Laughlin Acmes, Smith News, Ohio Power, Y. M. C. A., Homer Laughlin, Heimies and Brian Clothiers.

The season will be launched during the week of May 9 and will extend into the first couple of weeks in August with a two-week lay-off period around the Fourth of July.

The league voted to amend the eligibility rule to permit each team to carry 15 players instead of 12. One new rule was added to the code also. The rules committee decided in keeping with regulations in force in practically all leagues of the kind throughout this part of the country, that a ball, striking a batter, is dead and no play can be made on the pitch.

The ruling precludes the possibility of a batter deliberately getting in the way of a pitched ball, or failing to get out of the way of a wide one, in an effort to draw a walk.

She's Still Amateur As Far as Western Board is Concerned

MARY K. BROWNE

CHICAGO, April 21.—Miss Mary K. Browne is still a simon pure amateur as far as the Western Golf association is concerned, President Hobart P Young indicated today.

Following the ruling of the United States Golf association which declares the California girl ineligible because of her professional tennis activities, Mr. Young was asked what action the Western Golf association would take in fixing her status. He replied that the W. G. A. would not rule on her eligibility to play in amateur tournaments unless she asked it.

Young explained that under the "clear rules" of the W. G. A. he could see no reason why she should be barred.

The W. G. A. controls 400 golf clubs between Pittsburgh and the Pacific coast, but is not under the jurisdiction of the U. S. G. A., the association that yesterday ruled against Miss Browne.

Young added that he thought Miss Browne's disbarment sets up a dangerous precedent that might lead to many embarrassing problems in the future.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Miss Mary K. Browne, of Santa Monica, Cal., one of America's leading women golfers, is ineligible to participate in American amateur golf competition, under a ruling adopted by the United States Gold association. The executive committee declared that in playing professional tennis with C. C. Pyle's troupe, Miss Browne acted in a manner "detrimental to the best interests and true spirit of golf."

YANKS IN TIE FOR TOP PLACE

Detroit, "Dark Horse," Overtakes New York Sluggers.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The champion New York Yankees, who started the season with six straight victories, today are tied for first place with Detroit, the dark horse of the American league race. The Yanks were unable to conquer their Shibe park complex yesterday and lost to the Athletics, 8 to 5, while the Tigers were blanking the Browns, 7 to 0.

The Tigers always have packed a wicked punch, and now they are getting good pitching. Whitehill, who twirled yesterday, held the Brownies to four hits and seven fouls. Fothergill's home run was another feature of Detroit's first home game.

Although the Athletics rate only .500 in the standing of the clubs, they have won four of their last five games and are batting heavily. Cochrane celebrated the A's homecoming yesterday by clouting a homer and a triple against the Yanks, while Branom chipped in with three singles. Both Shocker and Grove, the starting pitchers, took their showers early.

The Pirates, who did not play yesterday, are still in front by a comfortable margin in the National League scramble. The Reds also were idle, but they dropped below Brooklyn to last place when the Dodgers trimmed the Braves, 4 to 3.

The Dodgers scored a blazing triumph, as it were. When Barrett knocked a home run, one fan became so excited that his cigar ignited a piece of bunting on the granstand. The fire department put out the blaze but the Robins refused to be put out until they had scored enough runs to win.

Fred Fitzsimmons had the Phillies eating out of his glove and the Giants captured their inaugural game at home before a crowd of 50,000 by a score of 5 to 1. Lindstrom got four hits. The victory put the Giants in second place.

Wee Willie Sherdel beat the Cubs, 4 to 2, in the Cardinals' opening, but something evidently is wrong in St. Louis. Only 12,000 fans turned out to greet the world's champions, who used to fill the park on opening day when they were tailenders.

The White Sox inaugural was a success with respect to everything but the ball game, which was won by Cleveland, 5 to 4. Lyons and Shaute, the starting pitchers, were shelled off the mound.

The Senators and Red Sox were not scheduled.

School Lads Achieve Great Record in Past Season.

WINNING 13 games and losing only one in fourteen starts during the past season, the Buckeye basketball team, composed entirely of high school lads, hung up one of the most impressive records that has ever been achieved by a team in its class in the district.

And these youngsters, practically all of whom are juniors in high school next year, in all likelihood, will constitute the foundation of next year's Blue and White five.

Captain-elect Elmer English was the only regular from this year's school squad to stay over for the 1927-28 campaign.

Registering 151 points for the campaign, Feit qualified as high scorer of the outfit. Small was second with 150 points and McConville and Witherow hung up 118 and 115, respectively. The team was coached by William Cox.

The complete scoring records follow:

Baseball Is Facing Area of Big "Gates"

100,000 Crowd Mark, Once a Mirage, Now Looms as Probability in Near Future.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Baseball's modern millennium, the once visionary 75, now quite feasible crowd of 100,000 at a single game, was more than a mirage on a chimerical sky line today. It became a probability of the more or less immediate future when Edward G. Barrow, business manager of the local American league club, informed the writer that, in all likelihood, the capacity of the Yankee stadium would be increased to 80,000 before the start of the 1928 season.

The stadium, with a seating capacity of some 63,000 at present, is by many thousands the largest edifice dedicated to baseball's popularity and, as such, was deemed at its official opening in 1922 to be the final obeisance before the great god progress.

Yet, within five years, they are talking in terms of alterations, annexes, ante-chambers and additions. And the end is not yet. When they triple-deck all except a nominal section of the bleachers, a development that seems inevitable, the 100,000 goal will be more than achieved. It will be exceeded.

Work on the new addition probably will be started next October, Barrow intimated. He didn't say so, but the writed gained the impression that it might have been begun last winter. But, unfortunately, the boys didn't know then what they know now.

They thought the addicts might turn up absent in great numbers this season because a few random pleasantries had been exchanged under the stands eight years ago when baseball was younger and goofier. But the returns at the turnstiles to date have annulled all trepidation.

The Yanks and Athletics played to 72,000, including standees, at the local opening, a baseball record that won't live long. Some 30,000 to 35,000 members of the garment trade were shut out of the park on that occasion and that is not the kind of business baseball likes to transact. With world series and big fights in the offing, the cry for bigger and better stands is due to get an early hearing.

And New York is not the only city to convince the skeptics than an odd scandal or so merely is part of the general hilarity of modern existence. True, the Yanks were watched by more than 200,000 in the first six games, in spite of the fact that two of them featured the Red Sox, who weren't expected to draw ushers. But other cities did equally well in the matter of comparative attendance; so well, in fact, as to indicate that baseball is on the verge of its biggest business.

Buick

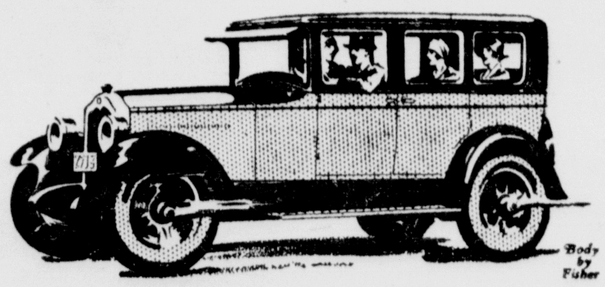
A38-30

Buick is in a value class

BUICK'S position of leadership is founded on value. Its constant aim is to build each Buick better than the last.

The savings that Buick's tremendous volume provides are used to further enrich quality—by such improvements as the Sealed Chassis, the Torque-Tube-Drive, Mechanical Four-Wheel Brakes, an Engine vibrationless beyond belief, and the increased luxury and refinement Buick offers in its Fisher Bodies.

And today, in keeping with its policy of continual advancement, Buick is constantly seeking to improve its design—constantly searching for the new and better thing—constantly striving still further to increase the value on which Buick's leadership is based.



SEDANS $1195 TO $1995

All prices are f. o. b. Flint, Michigan; government tax to be added. Buick delivered prices are lower because the smallest possible handling charge has been established by the Buick factory. The G. M. A. C. financing plan, the most desirable, is also available. The model illustrated is the Five-Passenger Sedan, Series 115, $1293.

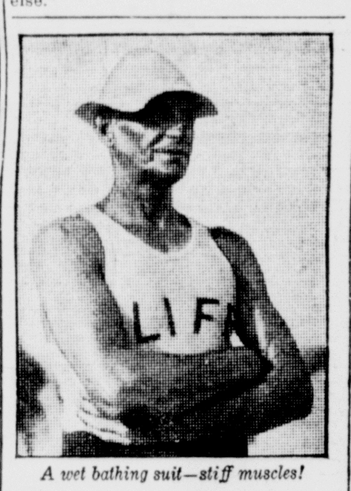
Instinct to Kill Will Bring Wars of Future Says German Reformer

BERLIN — "There will always be war, unless you succeed in destroying the human instinct to kill, and unless you encourage and develop instead the human instinct to preserve and to assist," says Dr. Helene Stoecker, one of the leading German women reformers, in an article published in her periodical, "The New Generation."

Sneering at "sham pacifists" all over the world, Dr. Stoecker holds that, with the exception of small, uninfluential groups, the nations of the world would start another war of the dimensions of the last world war, unhesitatingly, enthusiastically. "It is not because they have forgotten all about the indescribable sufferings they experienced during the last war, but because the killing instinct is still alive that they would do it all over again. And unless we find proper means to bring up people with other instincts, all talk about 'everlasting peace' and 'understanding of peoples' will remain talk and nothing else."



A wet bathing suit—stiff muscles!

MUSCLES WERE ALWAYS STIFF AND SORE

Life guard overcomes effects of damp and cold

A beach patrolman at Atlantic City has found a way to avoid the muscle-lameness that results from standing around all day in a wet bathing suit.

"Just pat on a few drops of Sloan's Liniment. Don't rub. It's the liniment—not the rubbing—that helps. You'll get relief right away. I've tried all sorts of other things, but nothing gets results like Sloan's."

Letters like this from hundreds of users of Sloan's tell of the wonderful relief that Sloan's gives to every kind of muscular pain.

Sloan's gives real and lasting help because it doesn't just deaden pain, it gets at the cause. Right to the place that hurts it brings a healing stream of fresh, new blood. Quickly and surely it carries off the "fatigue-poisons," takes out stiffness and drives away the aches and pains.
